Summary of Industry

Global Economy

Global GDP growth is projected at around 3.1%–3.3% for 2025–2026, slightly below the historical average. Advanced economies like the US and Europe show modest growth, while emerging markets such as India and China continue to drive global expansion. Inflation is expected to decline, but supply disruptions, trade protectionism, and geopolitical tensions pose persistent risks. Central banks are cautiously shifting to monetary easing, although inflation volatility may slow policy normalization.

Indian Economy

India is forecasted to be the growing economy, with growth between 6.5%–7.3% for FY25 and FY26. Key growth drivers include:

- Strong services sector (public administration, real estate, finance)
- Rising rural demand supported by favorable monsoons and agricultural output
- Manufacturing exports, especially in electronics and chemicals
- Controlled fiscal deficit and expected ramp-up in government capital expenditure

Despite global headwinds and domestic inflation risks, India's economic fundamentals remain robust. Strategic investments in infrastructure and digitalization, along with improved tax compliance and private sector resilience, reinforce its growth trajectory.

IT & BPM Sector

India's IT and BPM industry is a major contributor to GDP (projected to hit 10% by FY25) and employment (over 5.4 million jobs as of FY23). Global digitalization trends and remote work culture have fueled rapid growth in:

- Cloud computing
- Cybersecurity

The absence of seasoned expertise in this area could pose challenges in meeting regulatory requirements, addressing shareholder expectations, and executing strategic decisions. While we are committed to leveraging the expertise of our board and seeking external advice when needed, there is no assurance that our current management team will successfully overcome these challenges or prevent potential impacts on our operations and financial performance.

- 5) *We lack ownership of the registered office and other office used by our company. Any interference with our entitlements as the licensee/lessee or the cancellation of contracts with our licensors/lessors could have a negative effect on our activities and, as a result, our overall business.

We are presently conducting operations from the registered office located A/28 1st Floor, Jhilmil Industrial Area, Shahdara, East Delhi, Delhi 110095 and corporate office located at A-39, 2nd Floor, Sector 64 Noida, Gautam Buddha Nagar, Uttar Pradesh – 201301. We do not own these offices; instead, 11 months and 11 months respectively. We cannot guarantee that we will be able to renew this lease on terms that are commercially acceptable or favorable in the future. In case we are not able to renew the lease, it may have negative impact on our business and results of operations. For more information, please refer to the "Our Business" section of this Red Herring Prospectus.

In the event that we are required to vacate our current premises, we would need to secure alternative locations for offices and other infrastructure. However, we cannot guarantee that these new arrangements will be on commercially acceptable or favorable terms. Any relocation during this period may lead to operational disruptions or increased costs, impacting our business, prospects, financial results, and overall financial condition.

- 6) *Our present promoters of the Company are first generation entrepreneurs.

Our present Promoters are first generation entrepreneurs. Their experience in managing the business is instrumental in the growth of our Company. The concern is that their limited experience in running a listed company could potentially hinder the company's growth in the future. The statement is being cautious and transparent about this uncertainty, as it cannot assure that the promoters' inexperience won't affect our company's success.

- 7) *Our promoter holds two positions as Managing Director and as Chief Financial Officer in our company

Our promoter, Mr. Gaurav Sharma, holds dual positions as both Managing Director and Chief Financial Officer of Ace Alpha Tech Company, which may present certain risks for potential investors. While this structure has facilitated operational efficiency and financial oversight, it creates a concentration of decision-making power that could limit independent oversight and risk management. The duality in leadership roles may result in conflicting priorities, impacting the company's governance framework and potentially leading to delayed or less robust decision-making processes. We are committed to maintaining strong governance practices, and as part of our ongoing evaluation, we may consider separating these roles to mitigate any potential risks to our business and investor interests

- 8) *Our Company has reported negative cash flows in the recent period. Negative cash flows in the future could adversely affect our results of our operations and financial condition.

Our cash flows from operating activities, investing activities and financing activities for the period ended December 31, 2024 and Financial Year ended March 31 2024, 2023 and 2022 are set forth below:

Particulars	(Rs. in Lakhs)
	December 31, 2024	Fiscal 2024 (In Rs.)	Fiscal 2023 (In Rs.)	Fiscal 2022 (In Rs.)
Cash Flow from Operating Activities	(1,232.36)	499.53	55.96	(3.64)
Cash Flow from Investing Activities	66.63	(132.46)	0.88	1.53
Cash Flow from Financing Activities	(0.01)	768.12	(0.01)	(0.01)
Net increase / (decrease) in cash and cash equivalents	(1,165.75)	1,135.19	56.83	(2.11)

We cannot assure you that we will not have negative cash flows in the future. This could have a negative effect on our capacity to cover day-to-day operational expenses and business expansion. If we cannot generate enough cash flows, it may harm our business and financial activities.

11) Our Company has incurred major expenditure towards employee benefits and any changes in this could adversely affect the profitability of our company.

Our Company has observed a significant concentration of expenses in employee benefit costs over the past three fiscal years. Specifically, employee benefit expenses amounted to Rs 50.47 lakhs, Rs 29.67 lakhs, and Rs 17.07 lakhs in FY 23-24, FY 22-23, and FY 21-22, respectively. These figures represent a substantial portion of our total expenses, accounting for 39.3%, 59.4%, and 94.5% of our total expense in each corresponding fiscal year (Rs 128.09 lakhs, Rs 49.94 lakhs, and Rs 18.05 lakhs). The concentration of expenses in this category may expose the Company to risks associated with increased employee-related costs. Any future changes in employee compensation, benefits regulations, or workforce size could significantly impact our financial performance. Additionally, the increasing trend in these expenses relative to our total costs could affect our profitability and operational flexibility. We continually monitor these expenses and evaluate our cost management strategies to mitigate potential risks, but there is no guarantee that our efforts will fully offset these risks or their potential impact on our financial condition. Moreover, our Company has incurred substantial costs of Rs. 20.21 lakhs for ROC filing fees (relating to stamp duty charges for increase in authorized share capital of the company) and Rs. 24 lakhs for Director's remuneration in FY 23-24. These significant expenditures could strain our financial resources and impact our profitability. Increased regulatory fees or high executive compensation may further affect our financial stability. Our Company is actively managing these costs, but there is no guarantee against potential adverse effects.

12) Our Company will not receive any proceeds from the Offer for Sale. The proceeds from the Offer for Sale shall be received directly by the Selling Shareholders.

Investors should be aware that a substantial portion of this Public Issue comprises the offer for sale, and our company will not directly receive any proceeds from the offering. Instead, the funds raised through the Offer will be received by the Selling Shareholders. We will not receive any of the proceeds from the Offer for Sale portion and will accordingly not have access to such funds.

13) Our business success relies on the performance and functionality of our information technology systems, which play a crucial role in our day-to-day operations.

We acknowledge the risks associated with system errors, failures, or sudden increases in bandwidth usage, any of which could lead to the unavailability of our systems. Our computer networks are also susceptible to unauthorized access, hacking, viruses, and other security issues. The circumvention of security measures by a user could result in the misappropriation of proprietary information or disruptions in operations. Consequently, we may need to allocate substantial resources to safeguard against these threats. However, our company has not faced any of such instance in the past, while we cannot ensure it may not happen in future.

In the event of IT system malfunctions or prolonged downtime, our ability to conduct operations safely and efficiently may be compromised. This could result in losses in revenue, damage to our reputation, and a decline in business volume, significantly impacting our financial condition and operational results. While we have not experienced widespread disruptions to our client services thus far, there is no guarantee that we will not encounter such disruptions in the future.

Our Company has taken several measures to mitigate the risk associated with IT system malfunctions or prolonged downtime. We also include a specific clause in our client agreements that limits our liability in such instances, ensuring that clients are aware of potential risks beyond our control.

14) We have in past entered into related party transactions and we may continue to do so in the future.

We have in past entered into several related party transactions with our Promoter, Promoter Group and Key Managerial Personnels (pertaining to remuneration and interest income transactions). For further details, please refer to the chapter titled — "Financial Information" section. While we assert that all our related party transactions have been conducted at arm's length, and we confirm compliance with relevant provisions of the Companies Act and other applicable laws, we cannot guarantee that we might not have secured more favorable terms if these transactions had involved unrelated parties. The possibility exists that these transactions, whether individually or collectively, could negatively impact our business, prospects, financial results, and overall financial condition, potentially due to conflicts of interest or other factors. Furthermore, the future success of our business and growth prospects may be at risk if we cannot capitalize on our relationships with related parties. The related party transactions entered into by our company is in compliance with the Companies Act, 2013 and all other applicable laws.

15) Our service agreements with clients generally include the confidentiality clause, imposing a strict obligation on us to safeguard the confidential information. The breach of the confidentiality clause, whether unintentional or deliberate, expose our company to significant legal and reputational risk.

Our service agreement with clients incorporates a critical confidentiality clause, imposing a strict obligation on us to safeguard the confidential information entrusted by our clients. This clause serves as a cornerstone in our client relationships, reinforcing trust and ensuring the protection of proprietary data. However, this commitment carries inherent risks that could adversely impact our business operations and financial standing.

The breach of the confidentiality clause, whether unintentional or deliberate, exposes our company to significant legal and reputational risks. A failure to maintain the confidentiality of client information could result in the termination of agreements with the affected client. The repercussions extend beyond the immediate loss of revenue from terminated contracts, potentially leading to protracted legal proceedings.

16) We function within a competitive landscape and may encounter challenges in effectively competing, potentially leading to a significant adverse impact on our business, operational outcomes, and financial condition.

We operate in a competitive market, and we anticipate that competition will persist and intensify in the future. The dynamic and growing nature of our market attracts both new and existing competitors who allocate significant resources to enhance their products and services. Our ability to execute our business strategy and achieve growth hinges on several factors, including our capacity to introduce new services, adapt to evolving technologies, respond to competitor pricing strategies, enhance our brand, forge agreements with technology partners, and develop intellectual property.

Our competitors may allocate greater resources to product development, promotion, and sales, potentially having lower costs and greater resilience to withstand lower prices for market share gains. They might also have diversification advantages, leveraging their other businesses, products, and services to accept lower returns and capture market share. Additionally, competitors may possess superior technical, research and development, marketing, and financial resources compared to us, enabling them to respond more swiftly to new technologies or changing customer requirements and introduce a wider range of products.

To stay competitive, we must continually invest significant resources in modernization, research and development, marketing, and customer support. The availability of adequate resources for these investments and the capability to make technological advancements necessary for competitiveness remain uncertain. Failing to compete effectively against current or future competitors could have a materially adverse impact on our business, operational results, and financial condition.

17) The restated financial statement of the company has been provided by the peer reviewed chartered accountant who is not the statutory auditor of the Company.

The Restated Financial Information of our Company as disclosed in the Red Herring prospectus under the section titled “Restated Financial statements” beginning on Page no. 158 for the period ended on December 31, 2024 and Financial Year ended March 31, 2024, 2023 and 2022, was provided by peer reviewed auditor namely M/s K R A & Co., Chartered Accountants having FRN 020266N and peer review certificate number 012550, who was not the Statutory Auditor of our Company.

Further Lalit Agarwal & Co. Chartered Accountant having FRN: 008995N has been serving as the statutory auditor of the company since November 11, 2021.

Peer-reviewed accountants may not have the same level of access and understanding of your company’s operations and internal controls as the statutory auditors. This limited access could result in an incomplete review and potentially loose track of important risks or errors.

18) The company issued shares at a significantly higher valuation in the previous year. However, there is no assurance that such a high valuation can be sustained going forward, especially if future performance does not align with investor expectations or market conditions change.

The valuation of the company, rising from INR 1,687.94 in May 2023 to INR 1,04,613 in September 2023, and further to INR 1,18,310 by March 2024. The valuation multiplied by approximately 60 times, followed by a more moderate growth of approximately 13% by March 2024. This growth was driven by a substantial rise in revenue, from Rs. 489.26 Lakhs in FY 2023 to Rs. 1,487.12 Lakhs in FY 2024, and an expanding client base, which grew from 14 in FY 2023 to 36 in FY 2024.

The valuation method also shifted from the Net Asset Value (NAV) approach in May 2023 to the income approach in September 2023 and March 2024, reflecting future growth prospects. The company issued a total of 100, 468, and 234 shares on May 16, 2023, September 19, 2023, and March 30, 2024, respectively. These initial share issuances were based on a smaller share capital base, leading to a higher per-share valuation. Following the increase in share capital, a bonus issue of 1,39,99,392 equity shares was adjusted as of April 30, 2024.

Such rapid and significant fluctuations may indicate valuation volatility potentially driven by short-term factors. This pace of growth may not be maintainable, and there exists a material risk that the valuation could be revised or corrected in future periods.

19) Reliance has been placed on declarations and affidavits furnished by certain of our promoter for details of their profiles included in this Red Herring Prospectus

Reliance has been placed on undertakings and affidavits furnished by them to disclose details of their educational qualifications in this Red Herring Prospectus and we have not been able to independently verify these details. Therefore, we cannot assure you that all information relating to the educational qualifications and experiences of our Promoter and Director of this Red Herring Prospectus are complete, true and accurate.

20) Our success depends on our ability to develop and maintain successful relationships with merchants. Misconduct by our employees or failure of our internal processes could harm us by impairing our ability to attract and retain customers.

Employee misconduct or the failure of our internal processes and procedures has the potential to negatively impact us by compromising our ability to attract and retain customers, exposing us to significant legal liability, and causing reputational harm. Our business is inherently susceptible to the risks associated with employee misconduct or the breakdown of internal processes and procedures. Examples of employee misconduct include the improper use or disclosure of confidential information, leading to potential legal battles and severe damage to our reputation or financial standing.

Despite our efforts to monitor, detect, and prevent fraud or misappropriation by employees through various internal control measures, internal policies, and insurance coverage, these precautions may not be universally effective. It is possible that we may be unable to fully prevent or deter such activities in all cases. While we have successfully identified and addressed issues of this nature in the past, with no material impact, instances of fraud and misconduct by employees may go unnoticed for certain periods before corrective action is taken.

21) Our Promoter, Directors and Key Management Personnel have interest in our Company, other than reimbursement of expenses incurred or remuneration.

Our Promoter, Directors and Key Management Personnel can be deemed to be interested to the extent of the Equity Shares held by them, or their relatives, dividend entitlement in our Company, and benefits deriving from the directorship in our Company. Our Promoter are interested in the transactions entered into our Company and our Promoter Group. For further information, please refer to the chapters/section titled "Our Business", "Our Promoter", "Our Promoter Group" and Related Party Transaction Notes under "Financial Statements" Chapter.

22) The Objects of the Issue for which funds are being raised, are based on our management estimates and any bank or financial institution or any independent agency has not appraised the same. The deployment of funds in the project is entirely at our discretion, based on the parameters as mentioned in the chapter titles "Objects of the Issue".

The fund requirement and deployment, as mentioned in the "Objects of the Issue" of this Red Herring Prospectus is based on the estimates of our management and has not been appraised by any bank or financial institution or any other independent agency. These fund requirements are based on our current business plan.

We cannot assure that the current business plan will be implemented in its entirety or at all. In view of the highly competitive and dynamic nature of our business, we may have to revise our business plan from time to time and consequently these fund requirements. The deployment of the funds as stated under chapter Objects of the Issue is at the discretion of our Board of Directors and is not subject to monitoring by any external independent agency. Further, we cannot assure that the actual costs or schedule of implementation as stated under chapter Objects of the Issue will not vary from the estimated costs or schedule of implementation. Any such variance may be on account of one or more factors, some of which may be beyond our control. Occurrence of any such event may delay our business plans and/or may have an adverse bearing on our expected revenues and earnings.

23) Our business relies extensively on our Promoter and Key Managerial Personnel for the ongoing success through their continuous services and strategic guidance and support.

Our success relies extensively on the ongoing commitment of our Key Managerial Personnel, supported by our Promoter. The Company's Board comprises a strong team of qualified professionals, making our Key Managerial Personnel crucial for day-to-day operations. Losing any of our Promoter or Key Management Personnel, or facing challenges in finding suitable replacements, could negatively impact us. The absence of our Promoter and senior management's services might hinder our ability to efficiently manage and expand the business. If we struggle to retain skilled employees at reasonable costs, executing our growth strategy may become challenging. Refer to the sections "Our Promoter", "Our Promoter Group" and "Our Management" for more details on our Promoter, Directors, and Key Managerial Personnel.

24) We may be unable to attract and retain qualified, skilled employees necessary to manage, maintain and grow our business.

Our ability to thrive hinges significantly on our capacity to attract and retain highly skilled professionals, including engineers, operations managers, and sales and service staff. Given the scarcity of skilled individuals in the services industry and the intense competition in the job market, maintaining our team of personnel is crucial. Increased attrition poses a risk of diminishing the experience level within our team, potentially leading to heightened downtime and operational incidents. This, in turn, could result in reduced revenues and increased costs. The competitive landscape has driven up hiring, training, and retention expenses, creating inflationary pressure. The financial commitment required to continually attract and retain such personnel may impact our operating margins adversely.

25) Our operations could be adversely affected by strikes or increased wage demands by our employees or any other kind of disputes with our employees.

As on the date of DRHP, we have a team of 9 employees, across our operations. While we have not faced any employee unrest in the past, we cannot guarantee that future disputes or issues with our workforce won't disrupt our business. If such problems arise and are not resolved quickly, they could interfere with our normal operations and negatively impact our business, performance, and financial health. These situations are unpredictable and beyond our control, and any such events could harm our overall operations

26) If we are unable to expand our business rapidly to keep pace with the increasing demands of our customers, it could negatively impact our operational outcomes.

We have witnessed substantial growth in our customer base, placing strain on our management, administrative, operational, and financial infrastructure. We anticipate the need for additional investments in infrastructure spending to scale our operations, enhance productivity, address customer needs, improve services, and expand into new geographic areas.

The effective management of our projected growth is crucial to our success, relying significantly on the capability of our senior management. This involves increasing the productivity of existing employees, as well as hiring, training, and managing new staff as necessary. To handle the expected growth both domestically and internationally, we must continually enhance our operational, financial, and management controls, along with improving reporting systems and procedures.

The increased investments will raise our cost base, making it challenging to offset potential future revenue shortfalls by reducing expenses in the short term. Although we have successfully scaled our operations and increased productivity in the past, any failure to achieve similar results in the future could impede the execution of our business plan, significantly impacting our business prospects and operational outcomes.

27) We may require additional funding to support our growth strategies. The inability to secure additional financing could negatively impact our business, operational results, financial condition, and cash flows.

We will continue incurring expenses to maintain and expand our existing infrastructure, as well as to develop and implement new technologies as part of our service offerings. Our business growth strategy may necessitate raising additional funds for working capital or long-term plans. While historically, we have funded capital expenditures mainly through internal accruals and cash flow from operations, we cannot guarantee having sufficient capital resources for current operations or any potential future expansions. If our internally generated capital and available credit facilities fall short for financing our capital expenditures and growth plans, we may need to seek additional financing from third parties like banks, venture capital funds, joint venture partners, and other strategic investors in the future.

Arranging financing and its costs depend on various factors, including general economic and capital market conditions, credit availability, investor confidence, the sustained success of our operations, and laws facilitating capital raising. Opting for debt financing may subject us to restrictive covenants, potentially limiting our operational and managerial flexibility. Financing agreements might include terms requiring us to maintain specific debt service coverage and leverage ratios, using our assets, including cash balances, as collateral.

Failure to secure financing in a timely manner, at reasonable costs, and on acceptable terms, or failure to obtain it at all, could compel us to postpone, downsize, or abandon expansion plans. Such outcomes may significantly impact our business, financial condition, operational results, and future prospects.

28) Failure to establish optimal prices for our services and offerings could have negative consequences on our business, financial condition, and operational results.

We provide price quotes for our services and solutions based on the specific needs of our customers or the duration of service commitments on a case-by-case basis. Additionally, our ability to attract new customers or retain existing ones may be impacted if competitors adjust or reduce their prices. As we expand, determining the suitable pricing for effective competition in each geographic region becomes crucial. Failure to optimally price our service offerings and effectively manage the risks associated with altering prices or the pricing model could negatively impact our business, financial condition, and operational results.

29) We cannot assure payment of dividends on the Equity Shares in the future and our ability to pay dividends in the future will depend upon future earnings, financial condition, cash flows, working capital requirements, capital expenditures and restrictive covenants of our financing arrangements.

Our ability to pay dividends in the future will depend upon our future results of operations, financial condition, cash flows, sufficient profitability, working capital requirements and capital expenditure requirements and other factors considered relevant by our directors and shareholders. Our ability to pay dividends may also be restricted under certain financing arrangements that we may enter into. We cannot assure you that we will be able to pay dividends on the Equity Shares at any point in the future. For details, see "Dividend Policy".

The declaration and payment of dividends will be recommended by the Board of Directors and approved by the Shareholders, at their discretion, subject to the provisions of the Articles of Association and applicable law, including the Companies Act. We may retain all future earnings, if any, for use in the operations and expansion of the business. As a result, we may not declare dividends in the foreseeable future. Any future determination as to the declaration and payment of dividends will be at the discretion of our Board and will depend on factors that our Board deems relevant, including among others, our future earnings, financial condition, cash requirements, business prospects and any other financing arrangements. We cannot assure you that we will be able to pay dividends in the future. Accordingly, realization of a gain on the Shareholders' investments will depend on the appreciation of the price of our Equity Shares. We cannot assure you that our Equity Shares will appreciate in value.

30) Our Promoters are not engaged in similar line of business, however, there can be no assurance that our Promoter or members of the Promoter Group will not compete with our existing business.

At present none of our Promoter are engaged in any other business having object similar to the line of business of our Company. However, there can be no assurance that our Promoter or members of the Promoter Group will not compete with our existing business or any future business that we may undertake or that their interests will not conflict with ours. Any such future conflicts could have a material adverse effect on our reputation, business, results of operations and financial condition which may adversely affect our profitability and results of operations.

31) We have not made any alternate arrangements for meeting our capital requirements for the Objects of the Issue. Further we have not identified any alternate source of financing the Objects of the Issue. A deficiency in securing or fulfilling these requirements could have negative consequences on our expansion strategies, day-to-day business activities, and overall financial well-being.

As of the date of this Red Herring Prospectus, we haven't put in place any backup plans to address our capital needs related to certain objectives of the Issue. Our capital requirements are currently met through internal funds and earnings. If there's a deficit in our net owned funds, internal accruals, and our inability to secure debt in the future, we may face challenges in meeting our capital needs, leading to adverse effects on our financial status and operational results. Additionally, we haven't identified any alternative funding sources. Consequently, any failure or delay in raising funds from this Issue or any shortfall in the Issue proceeds may hinder our implementation schedule and negatively impact our growth plans. For more information, please refer to the section titled "Objects of the Issue" beginning on page 71 of this Red Herring Prospectus.

32) Any deviation in the utilization of the Net Proceeds is contingent upon meeting specific compliance requirements, which includes obtaining approval from shareholders beforehand. We cannot assure that we will obtain shareholder's approval for the deviation in utilization in net proceeds, if proposed.

Our Company intends to utilize the Net Proceeds generated from the Fresh Issue as outlined in the "Objects of the Issue" section. According to Section 13(8) and Section 27 of the Companies Act, 2013, any deviation from the disclosed utilization of the Net Proceeds in this Red Herring Prospectus requires prior approval from our shareholders through a special resolution. This variation must comply with applicable laws, including the Companies Act 2013 and the SEBI ICDR Regulations.

Should circumstances necessitate, a variation in the disclosed utilization of the Net Proceeds, obtaining timely approval from our shareholders may pose challenges. Delays or the inability to secure such approval may have adverse effects on our business or operations. In such instances, our Promoters are obligated to offer an exit opportunity to shareholders who disagree with the proposed variation in the Offer's objectives, in accordance with our Articles of Association, the Companies Act, and the SEBI ICDR Regulations.

Considering these factors, our company may face constraints in altering the Offer's objectives or utilizing any unutilized proceeds from the Fresh Issue, even if such changes would be in the company's best interest. This limitation could impede our ability to respond to changes in our business or financial condition by reallocating any unutilized Net Proceeds, potentially impacting our business and operational results.

33) Our Company does not have any listed peer companies for comparison of performance and therefore, investors must rely on their own examinations of accounting ratios of our Company for the purposes of investment in this Issue.

The business models of certain listed companies engaged in activities that may be perceived as similar to ours are not directly comparable due to the diverse nature and extent of operations across various sectors undertaken by these companies. Consequently, there is no identifiable peer group of companies with comparable business models to ours. Investors are advised to conduct their own assessment of the accounting ratios specific to our Company when making investment decisions in this Issue.

34) The average cost of acquisition of Equity Shares held by our Promoter may be less than the Issue Price.

The average acquisition cost per Equity Share held by our Promoters might be lower than the issue price. Consequently, investors purchasing the Equity Shares may incur a cost higher than the average acquisition cost of our Promoter's Equity Shares.

35) The weighted average cost of acquisition of Selling Shareholders may be less than the Issue Price.

The weighted average acquisition cost per Equity Share held by Selling Shareholders might be lower than the issue price. Consequently, investors purchasing the Equity Shares may incur a cost higher than the weighted average acquisition cost of Selling Shareholders. For more details of cost of acquisition and average cost of acquisition please refer to page no. ___ and ___ of this DRHP.

36) The industry information provided in this Red Herring Prospectus has been sourced from various industry reports. It is important to note that there is no guarantee regarding the completeness or accuracy of such third-party statistical, financial, and other industry data.

Our company has incorporated information from reports prepared by independent third parties, and these reports are subject to certain limitations and are based on subjective assumptions. We have not independently verified the data obtained from these industry reports or other sources. While we believe that the data is reliable, we cannot ensure the accuracy, completeness, or reliability of the underlying assumptions.

It's crucial to understand that the information presented in this prospectus has not been prepared or verified independently by us, our affiliates, or our advisors. Therefore, we make no explicit or implicit representation or warranty regarding the accuracy or completeness of the facts and statistics provided. Due to potential flaws in collection methods, discrepancies between published information and market practices, and other issues, the statistics presented herein may be inaccurate or incomparable to statistics from other economies. Additionally, there is no assurance that these statistics are stated or compiled on the same basis or with the same degree of accuracy as in other contexts. Statements from third parties involving estimates are subject to change, and actual amounts may vary significantly from those outlined in this Red Herring Prospectus.

37) Our Equity Shares, having not been publicly traded prior to the Offer, may be susceptible to fluctuations in both price and volume post-Issue, and the development of an active trading market cannot be guaranteed.

Before the Issue, our Equity Shares did not have a public market, and the initiation of an active trading market post-Issue is uncertain. The mere listing and quotation of our Equity Shares do not ensure the development of a market for them, and even if one materializes, there is no assurance regarding its liquidity. In the absence of active trading, investors may encounter challenges in promptly selling Equity Shares at the quoted price. Additionally, the Issue Price determined for our Equity Shares may not accurately reflect the market price upon the commencement of trading or at any subsequent point.

The market price of our Equity Shares may be subject to significant fluctuations influenced by various factors, including but not limited to:

- Semi-annual variations in our operational results.
- Results of operations differing from the expectations of research analysts and investors.
- Results of operations deviating from those of our competitors.
- Changes in expectations concerning our future financial performance, encompassing estimates by research analysts and investors.
- Conditions in financial markets, both within and outside India.
- Shifts in research analysts' recommendations.
- Announcements by third parties or government entities concerning significant claims or proceedings against us.
- Implementation of new laws, alterations to existing laws, or changes in government regulations pertinent to our industry.
- Additions or departures of Key Management Personnel and Senior Management.
- Fluctuations in stock market prices and trading volumes.
- General economic and stock market conditions.

Alterations in any of these factors may adversely impact the price of our Equity Shares. Consequently, the price of our Equity Shares may exhibit volatility, making it challenging to resell them at or above the Issue Price, or possibly not at all, resulting in a potential loss or partial loss of your investment.

38) There is no guarantee regarding the timely listing of Equity Shares on the Stock Exchanges, and investors may face limitations in promptly selling the subscribed Equity Shares on Indian Stock Exchanges.

In compliance with prevailing regulations and SEBI-issued circulars, our Equity Shares must be listed on the Stock Exchanges within the stipulated timeline as per UPI Circulars, unless there is any alteration to the prescribed timeline. As per Indian laws and customary practice, permission for the listing of Equity Shares will only be granted after the issuance and allotment of shares, along with the submission of all pertinent documents to the Stock Exchanges. Preceding the commencement of listing and trading of the Equity Shares, certain actions must be completed, including the book entry of investors or the crediting of shares to 'demat' accounts with Depository Participants in India, anticipated within one (1) Working Day from the finalization of the Basis of Allotment with the Designated Stock Exchange.

Additionally, the Allotment of Equity Shares and the credit of such shares to the applicant's demat account could take approximately two (2) Working Days from the Bid/Issue Closing Date. Trading in Equity Shares is expected to commence within three (3) Working Days from the Bid/Issue Closing Date upon receiving approval from the Stock Exchanges. However, we cannot provide assurance that trading in our Equity Shares will commence promptly or at all. Any failure or delay in obtaining approval or initiating trading in Equity Shares may limit the ability to dispose of shares. There is no assurance that Equity Shares will be credited to investors' demat accounts or that trading will commence in a timely manner or at all. Furthermore, if Allotment is not made, refund orders are not dispatched, or demat credits are not executed within prescribed periods, we may be obligated to pay interest at applicable rates.

39) Shareholders of Equity Shares may face limitations on exercising pre-emptive rights under Indian law, potentially resulting in the dilution of their ownership positions in the future.

According to the Companies Act, a public company incorporated in India is required to extend pre-emptive rights to its equity shareholders. These rights allow shareholders to subscribe and pay for a proportionate number of new Equity Shares, maintaining their existing ownership percentages before the issuance of any additional Equity Shares. However, these pre-emptive rights can be waived if holders of three-fourths of the Equity Shares adopt a special resolution.

The ability to exercise pre-emptive rights may be subject to the laws of the jurisdiction in which shareholders are located. If local laws do not permit the exercise of these rights without the company filing an offering document or registration statement with the relevant authority, shareholders may be unable to exercise such rights unless the company makes such a filing. In cases where the company chooses not to file a registration statement, new securities may be issued to a custodian. This custodian might sell the securities on behalf of shareholders, but the value received by the custodian upon the sale and related transaction costs are uncertain. In situations where shareholders cannot exercise pre-emptive rights, their proportional interests in the company could be diluted.

EXTERNAL RISK FACTORS

40) The outbreak and after-effects of COVID-19, or outbreak of any other severe communicable disease could have a potential impact on our business, financial condition, cash flows and results of operations.

The outbreak of any severe communicable disease, as seen in the recent outbreak and aftermath of COVID-19, could materially and adversely affect business sentiment and environment across industries. In addition, our revenue and profitability could be impacted to the extent that a natural disaster, health epidemic or other outbreak harms the Indian and global economy in general. The outbreak of COVID-19 has resulted in authorities implementing several measures such as travel bans and restrictions, quarantines, shelter in place orders, and lockdowns. These measures have impacted and may further impact our workforce and operations and also the operations of our clients. A rapid increase in severe cases and deaths where measures taken by governments fail or are lifted prematurely, may cause significant economic disruption in India and in the rest of the world. The scope, duration and frequency of such measures and the adverse effects of COVID-19 remain uncertain and could be severe.

During the lockdown period in response to the COVID-19 pandemic, our Company had certain interim measures in place to ensure business and operational continuity. Our employees worked remotely. However, certain of our operations are dependent on various information technology systems and applications which may not be adequately supported by a robust business continuity plan, which could impact our business in the event of a disaster of any nature. Although we continue to devote resources and management focus, there can be no assurance that these programs will operate effectively.

41) The Terrorist attacks, communal disturbances and regional conflicts in South Asia may have a material adverse effect on our business and on the market for securities in India.

Terrorist attacks, whether in India or another country may adversely affect Indian and worldwide financial markets. These acts may also result in a loss of business confidence and have other consequences that could adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition. Some parts of India have experienced communal disturbances and riots during recent years. If such events recur, our business and financial condition may be adversely affected.

South Asia has, from time to time, experienced instances of civil unrest. Military activity or terrorist attacks in the future could adversely affect the Indian economy, and the financial condition and results of operations of Indian companies, including us, which would have an adverse effect on the trading price of our Equity Shares.

42) Under Indian legal regime, foreign investors are subject to investment restrictions that limit our Company's ability to attract foreign investors, which may adversely affect the trading price of the Equity Shares. Accordingly, our ability to raise foreign capital may be constrained.

As a company incorporated in India, we are subject to exchange controls that govern the borrowings in foreign currencies. Further, under applicable foreign exchange regulations in India, transfer of shares between nonresidents and residents are freely permitted (subject to compliance with sectoral norms and certain other restrictions), if they comply with the pricing guidelines and reporting requirements specified under applicable laws. If share transfer is not in compliance with such requirements and does not fall under any of the permissible exceptions, then prior approval of the relevant regulatory authority is required. Such regulatory restrictions limit our financing sources and could constrain our ability to obtain financings on competitive terms and refinance existing indebtedness.

43) The requirements of being a listed company may strain our resources.

We are not a listed company and have not been subjected to the increased scrutiny of our affairs by shareholders, regulators and the public at large that is associated by the virtue of being a listed company. As a listed company, we will incur considerable legal, accounting, corporate governance and other expenses that we did not incur as an unlisted company. We will be subject to the listing compliances and reporting requirements to the Stock Exchanges on which equity shares of our Company will be listed, which require us to file audited annual and unaudited half-yearly reports with respect to our business and financial condition. If we experience any delays, we may fail to satisfy our reporting obligations and/or we may not be able to readily determine and accordingly report any changes in our results of operations as timely as other listed companies.

44) Any adverse change or downgrading in ratings of India may adversely affect our business, results of operations and cash flows.

Any adverse revisions to India's credit ratings international debt by international rating agencies may adversely affect our ability to raise additional overseas financing and the interest rates and other commercial terms at which such additional financing is available. This could have an adverse effect on our ability to fund our growth on favorable terms or at all, and consequently adversely affect our business and financial performance and the price of our Equity Shares.

45) Investors outside India subscribing to this Issue may not be able to enforce any judgment of a foreign court against us, except by way of a suit in India.

Our Company is a limited liability company incorporated under the laws of India. Our Company's assets are located in India. As a result, it may be difficult for investors to effect service of process upon us or such persons in India or to enforce judgments obtained against our Company or such parties outside India. India is not a party to any international treaty in relation to the recognition or enforcement of foreign judgments. India has reciprocal recognition and enforcement of judgments in civil and commercial matters with a limited number of jurisdictions, including the United Kingdom, Singapore, UAE, and Hong Kong. A judgment from certain specified courts located in a jurisdiction with reciprocity must meet certain requirements of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, as amended ("Civil Procedure Code"). The United States has not been notified as a reciprocating territory.

In addition, any person seeking to enforce a foreign judgment in India is required to obtain the prior approval of the RBI to repatriate any amount recovered, and we cannot assure that such approval will be forthcoming within a reasonable period of time, or at all, or that conditions of such approvals would be acceptable. Such amount may also be subject to income tax in accordance with applicable law. Consequently, it may not be possible to enforce in an Indian court any judgment obtained in a foreign court, or effect service of process outside of India, against Indian companies, entities, their directors and executive officers and any other parties resident in India. Additionally, there is no assurance that a suit brought in an Indian court in relation to a foreign judgment will be disposed of in a timely manner.

46) Changing laws, rules and regulations and legal uncertainties in India and other countries may adversely affect our business and financial performance.

The regulatory and policy environment in which we operate is evolving and subject to change. Such changes may adversely affect our business, results of operations and prospects, to the extent that we are unable to suitably respond to and comply with any such changes in applicable law and policy. For example, the Government of India implemented a comprehensive national goods and services tax ("GST") regime with effect from July 1, 2017, that combined multiple taxes and levies by the Central and State Governments into unified tax structure. Our business and financial performance could be adversely affected by any unexpected or onerous requirements or regulations resulting from the introduction of GST or any changes in laws or interpretation of existing laws, or the promulgation of new laws, rules and regulations relating to GST, as it is implemented. The Government has enacted the GAAR which have come into effect from April 1, 2017.

Uncertainty in the applicability, interpretation or implementation of any amendment to, or change in, governing law, regulation or policy, including by reason of an absence, or a limited body, of administrative or judicial precedent may be time consuming as well as costly for us to resolve and may impact the viability of our current businesses or restrict our ability to grow our businesses in the future.

47) Regulatory, economic, political scenarios or other factors that are beyond control may have an adverse effect on our business and financial performance.

Our economy and its securities markets are influenced by economic developments, any adverse economic developments or rising of fiscal or trade deficit may also affect investor confidence and cause increased volatility in securities markets and indirectly affect our economy in general. Any of these factors could depress economic activity and restrict our access to capital, which could have an adverse effect on our business, financial condition, and results of operations. Further financial disruption could also have an adverse effect on our business, future financial performance, shareholders' equity and the price of our Equity Shares.

Also, a change in the government or change in deregulation policies could adversely affect economic conditions prevalent in the areas in which we operate in general and our business and high rates of inflation could increase our costs without proportionately increasing our revenues.

48) Financial instability in other countries may cause increased volatility in Indian and other financial markets.

The Indian financial market and the Indian economy are influenced by economic and market conditions in other countries, particularly in emerging market in Asian countries. Financial turmoil in Asia, Europe, the United States and elsewhere in the world in recent years has affected the Indian economy. Although economic conditions are different in each country, investors' reactions to developments in one country can have an adverse effect on the securities of companies in other countries, including India. A loss in investor confidence in the financial systems of other emerging markets may cause increased volatility in Indian financial market and, indirectly, in the Indian economy in general. Any global financial instability, including further deterioration of credit conditions in the U.S. market, could also have a negative impact on the Indian economy.

Financial disruptions may occur again and could harm our results of operations and financial condition. The Indian economy is also influenced by economic and market conditions in other countries. This includes, but is not limited to, the conditions in the United States, Europe and certain economies in Asia. Financial turmoil in Asia and elsewhere in the world in recent years has affected the Indian economy. Any worldwide financial instability may cause increased volatility in the Indian financial markets and, directly or indirectly, adversely affect the Indian economy and financial sector and its business.

Although economic conditions vary across markets, loss of investor confidence in one emerging economy may cause increased volatility across other economies, including India. Financial instability in other parts of the world could have a global influence and thereby impact the Indian economy. Financial disruptions in the future could adversely affect our business, prospects, financial condition and results of operations. The global credit and equity markets have experienced substantial dislocations, liquidity disruptions and market corrections.

49) Natural disasters, epidemics, pandemics, acts of war, terrorist attacks and other events could materially and adversely affect our business and profitability.

Natural disasters (such as earthquakes, fire, typhoons, cyclones, hurricanes and floods), pandemics, epidemics, strikes, civil unrest, terrorist attacks and other events, which are beyond our control, may lead to global or regional economic instability, which may in turn materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition, cash flows and results of operations. Any of these occurrences could cause severe disruptions to our daily operations and may warrant a temporary closure of our facilities. Such closures may disrupt our business operations and adversely affect our results of operations. Our operation could also be disrupted if our clients are affected by such natural disasters or epidemics. An outbreak or epidemic, such as SARS, the H1N1 and H5N1 viruses or COVID-19 could cause general consumption or the demand for various products to decline, which could result in reduced demand for our services. Such an outbreak or epidemic may significantly interrupt our business operations as health or governmental authorities may impose quarantine and inspection measures on us or our clients.

Moreover, certain regions in India have witnessed terrorist attacks and civil disturbances and it is possible that future terrorist attacks or civil unrest, as well as other adverse social, economic and political events in India could have a negative effect on us. Transportation facilities, including vehicles, can be targets of terrorist attacks, which could lead to, among other things, increased insurance and security costs. Regional and global political or military tensions or conflicts strained or altered foreign relations, protectionism and acts of war or the potential for war could also cause damage and disruption to our business, which could materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition, cash flows and results of operations. Such incidents could create the perception that investments in Indian companies involve a higher degree of risk and such perception could adversely affect our business and the price of the Equity Shares.

Illustration of the Book Building and Price Discovery Process: Bidders should note that this example is solely for illustrative purposes and is not specific to the Issue; it also excludes Bidding by Anchor Investors. Bidders can bid at any price within the Price Band. For instance, assume a Price Band of ₹20 to ₹ 24 per share, Issue size of 3,000 Equity Shares and receipt of five Bids from Bidders, details of which are shown in the table below. The illustrative book given below shows the demand for the Equity Shares of the Issuer at various prices and is collated from Bids received from various investors.

Bid Quantity	Bid Amount (₹)	Cumulative Quantity	Subscription
500	24	500	16.67%
1,000	23	1,500	50.00%
1,500	22	3,000	100.00%
2,000	21	5,000	166.67%
2,500	20	7,500	250.00%

The price discovery is a function of demand at various prices. The highest price at which the Issuer is able to Issue the desired number of Equity Shares is the price at which the book cuts off, i.e., ₹ 22.00 in the above example. The Company in consultation with the BRLM, may finalise the Issue Price at or below such Cut-Off Price, i.e., at or below ₹ 22.00. In-House Coding Training:

After hiring, we invest in comprehensive in-house training programs to equip these traders with coding skills. This training is tailored to our integrated hardware and application solutions, enabling them to effectively troubleshoot and enhance our products.

Enhanced Problem-Solving Capabilities:

They can quickly identify the root causes of problems and implement solutions that not only fix issues but also enhance overall performance.

1. Exclude amounts, or are subject to adjustments that have the effect of excluding amounts, that are included in the most directly comparable measures calculated and presented in accordance with GAAP in the financial statements of the issuer company; or

Include amounts or are subject to adjustments that have the effect of including amounts, that are excluded from the most directly comparable measures so calculated and presented. Such adjustment items should be based on the audited line items only, which are included in the financial statements. These Non-GAAP Financial measures are items which are not defined under Ind AS or AS, as applicable. Generally, if the issuer company takes a commonly understood or defined GAAP amount and removes or adds a component of that amount that is also presented in the financial statements, the resulting amount is considered a Non-GAAP Financial measure. As a simplified example, if the issuer company discloses net income less restructuring charges and loss on debt extinguishment (having determined all amounts in accordance with GAAP), the resulting performance amount, which may be labelled "Adjusted Net Income," is a Non-GAAP Financial measure.

INDUSTRY OVERVIEW

GLOBAL ECONOMY

Global growth is projected at 3.3 percent both in 2025 and 2026, below the historical (2000–19) average of 3.7 percent. The forecast for 2025 is broadly unchanged from that in the October 2024 World Economic Outlook (WEO), primarily on account of an upward revision in the United States offsetting downward revisions in other major economies. Global headline inflation is expected to decline to 4.2 percent in 2025 and to 3.5 percent in 2026, converging back to target earlier in advanced economies than in emerging market and developing economies.

Medium-term risks to the baseline are tilted to the downside, while the near-term outlook is characterized by divergent risks. Upside risks could lift already-robust growth in the United States in the short run, whereas risks in other countries are on the downside amid elevated policy uncertainty. Policy-generated disruptions to the ongoing disinflation process could interrupt the pivot to easing monetary policy, with implications for fiscal sustainability and financial stability. Managing these risks requires a keen policy focus on balancing trade-offs between inflation and real activity, rebuilding buffers, and lifting medium-term growth prospects through stepped-up structural reforms as well as stronger multilateral rules and cooperation.

Global economic activity is expected to maintain modest momentum in 2025. Real GDP growth should remain stable at 3.1% – on par with the expected advance in 2024 – but our global economic outlook foresees strongly desynchronized growth patterns across regions.

Our Strategy Consulting teams help CEOs achieve maximum value for stakeholders by designing strategies that improve profitability and long-term value.

Real GDP in advanced economies is projected to grow 1.8% in 2025, up from 1.7% in 2024. In the US, economic activity is expected to remain robust, supported by solid income and productivity, even as real GDP growth slips from 2.8% in 2024 to 2.2% in 2025. In Europe, steady income growth and falling interest rates should drive stronger consumer spending growth and a modest recovery in investment. Real GDP growth in the euro area should pick up to 1.3%—surpassing 1% for the first time in three years. Real GDP growth in Japan is likely to rebound toward 1.1% driven by a gradual acceleration in real wages and consumer spending.

Note: For India, data and forecasts are presented on a fiscal year basis, with FY 2024/25 (starting in April 2024) shown in the 2024 column. India's growth projections are 6.8 percent for 2025 and 6.5 percent for 2026 based on calendar year.

Emerging markets are anticipated to grow at 4.1% in 2025, in line with growth in 2024. We foresee real GDP growth in mainland China slowing to 4.5% in 2025 as structural property sector and demographic challenges will restrain economic activity despite fiscal and monetary policy support. India should remain a bright spot, with real GDP growth expected at 6.4%, driven by public investment and strong domestic demand. Latin America is expected to see a mildly stronger expansion, despite a notable slowdown in growth in Brazil.

Global inflation is expected to decline steadily, easing from 4.5% in 2024 to 3.5% in 2025 – still somewhat higher than the 3.1% pace in 2019. Advanced economies are likely to bring inflation under control faster than emerging economies. However, the near-term trajectory to price stability may still face challenges with persistent services and wage inflation in several parts of the world leading to desynchronized monetary policy responses. Risks to the global inflation outlook will be tilted to the upside given the prospects of increased protectionism, geopolitical tensions, derisking and demographic constraints.

Global growth is projected to moderate

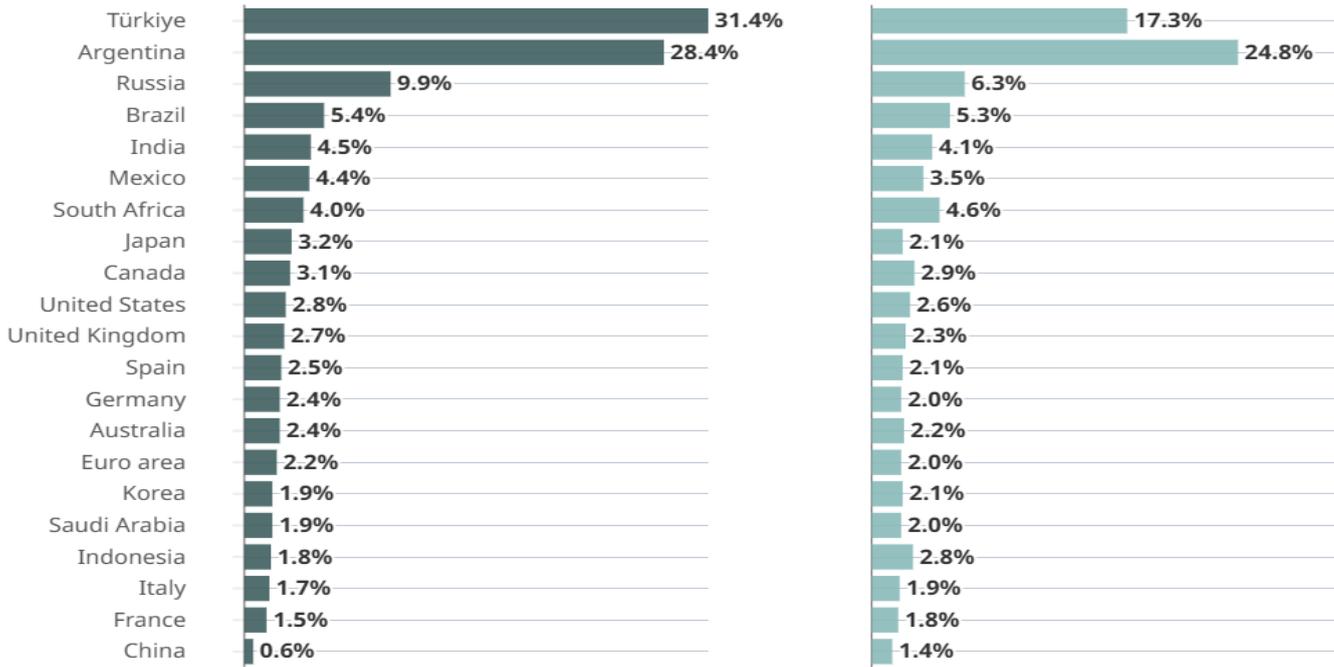

Global GDP growth is expected to moderate from 3.2% in 2024 to 3.1% in 2025 and 3.0% in 2026, with higher trade barriers in several G20 economies and increased policy uncertainty weighing on investment and household spending. Annual real GDP growth in the United States is projected to slow from its very strong recent pace, to 2.2% in 2025 and 1.6% in 2026. Euro area real GDP growth is projected to be 1.0% in 2025 and 1.2% in 2026, as heightened uncertainty keeps growth subdued. Growth in China is projected to slow from 4.8% this year to 4.4% in 2026.

Inflation continues to linger in many countries

Inflationary pressures persist in many economies, with headline inflation recently turning up again in an increasing share of economies. Services price inflation has stayed elevated, with a median rate of 3.6% across OECD economies. Over 2025-26 inflation is projected to be higher than previously expected, although still moderating as economic growth softens. Headline inflation is projected to fall from 3.8% in 2025 to 3.2% in 2026 in the G20 economies. Underlying inflation is now projected to remain above central bank targets in many countries in 2026.

Regional growth prospects are diverging

Economic growth in the United States is projected to moderate from a robust 2.8 per cent in 2024 to 1.9 per cent in 2025, amid weaker labour market performance and looming public spending cuts. Economic growth in China is expected to remain just below 5 per cent in the coming years, constrained by subdued consumption growth, ongoing weakness in the property sector, and the challenges posed by a shrinking population and rising trade tensions. Japan and Europe are forecast to experience modest economic recovery in 2025 and 2026, following weaker-than-expected growth in 2024.

Inflation and food security are improving, but threats remain

Global inflation has eased, with headline inflation falling from 5.6 per cent in 2023 to an estimated 4.0 per cent in 2024 (figure 2). However, the pace of disinflation has slowed due to sticky prices in housing and other services sectors as well as tight labour markets in developed economies. Inflation is projected to decline further to 3.4 per cent in 2025, although this outcome will depend on how trade restrictions evolve. In developed countries, inflation is expected to stabilize around central bank targets, creating room for a further gradual easing of monetary policy. In developing countries, inflation is forecast to continue declining but to remain above its long-term average in regions such as Africa and Western Asia, with some countries still experiencing double-digit inflation. Meanwhile, the prevalence of moderate or severe food insecurity has decreased slightly but remains above pre-pandemic levels.

Upward risks to the inflation outlook remain significant. Renewed supply shocks in global commodity markets could drive up energy and food prices. Additionally, trade restrictions by major economies may push up prices in domestic markets, while disrupting supplies in global markets. Moreover, climate-related shocks, such as heatwaves, droughts, and floods threaten crop yields, intensifying pressures on food prices and endangering shipping channels and hydroelectric power generation.

Central banks shift to easier monetary policy

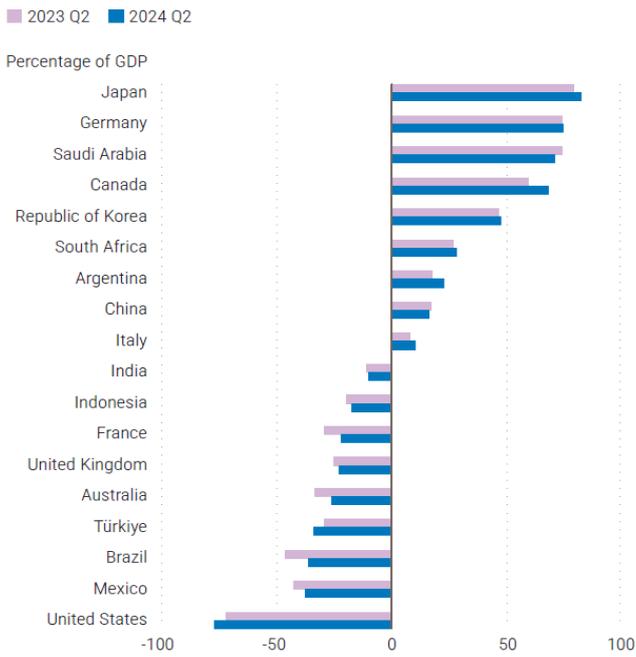

Most central banks shifted to monetary easing in 2024 in response to moderating inflationary pressures and concerns over high financing costs. The European Central Bank initiated this policy shift in June, followed by the Bank of England in July and the Federal Reserve in September. The People's Bank of China accelerated its easing measures, while the Bank of Japan diverged by adopting a tightening stance. By November 2024, 67 out of 108 central banks, mostly in developed and Asian economies, had eased their monetary policy stances.

The global trend of monetary easing is expected to gradually reduce financing costs in many economies. However, uncertainty regarding the duration and intensity of the Federal Reserve's and European Central Bank's easing cycles poses challenges. Moreover, the divergence between interest rate cuts and quantitative tightening (QT) introduces new complexities and risks. As liquidity is drained from the banking system, the projected increase in funding demand adds further pressure (IMF, 2024). The reliance on market-based funding, particularly repurchase agreements (repos), makes financial institutions more vulnerable to liquidity fluctuations, potentially undermining the effectiveness of monetary easing and creating risks for the broader financial system. The recent global sell-off of government bonds, which drove up bond yields across many countries, highlights shifting investor expectations around monetary easing, fiscal policy and broader economic uncertainties.

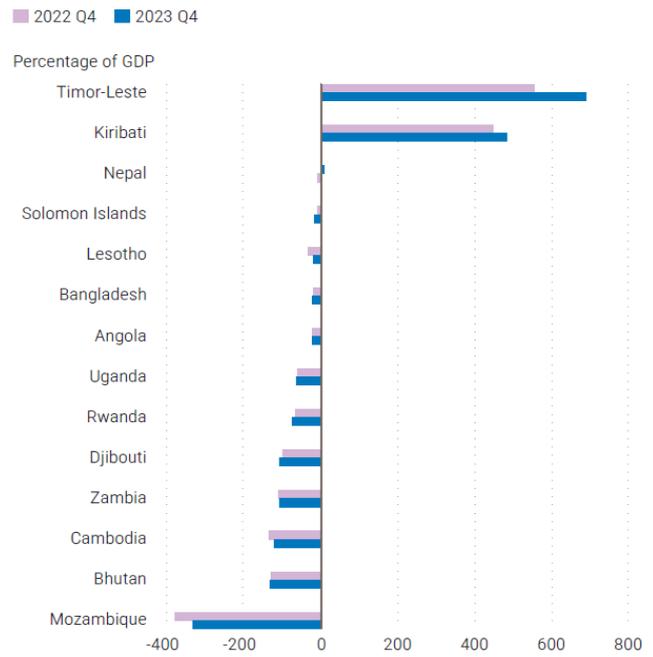

The Federal Reserve and European Central Bank are trading carefully to balance the policy trade-offs between price stability and growth in their respective economies, with current projections pointing at relatively shallow and gradual easing in 2025. The complex interplay between growth, inflation, interest rates, and liquidity necessitates the careful monitoring of both the economic and financial sectors to ensure effective policy implementation in support of growth and stability objectives.

International finance grows amid loosening monetary policy and strong investor demand. In 2024, cross-border financing resumed growth after stagnating since 2022, driven by loosening monetary policy and strong investor demand (figure 4). The net international investment position (NIIP) of the United States increased by 24 per cent year-on-year to -$22.5 trillion (77 per cent of GDP) in 2024. This reflects the growing appeal of financial assets in the United States due to stronger economic performance and higher expected returns compared to other countries. Indeed, the US dollar strengthened markedly in the second half of 2024 against major currencies.

Among other G20 economies, large net debtors included Brazil (36 per cent of GDP), Mexico (37 per cent), and Türkiye (33 per cent). Germany (74 per cent of GDP), Japan (83 per cent) and China (16 per cent) remained the largest creditors. Several least developed countries with a large negative NIIP, such as Mozambique (328 per cent), Bhutan (129 per cent) and Cambodia (117 per cent), face external financing constraints and a high risk of debt distress.

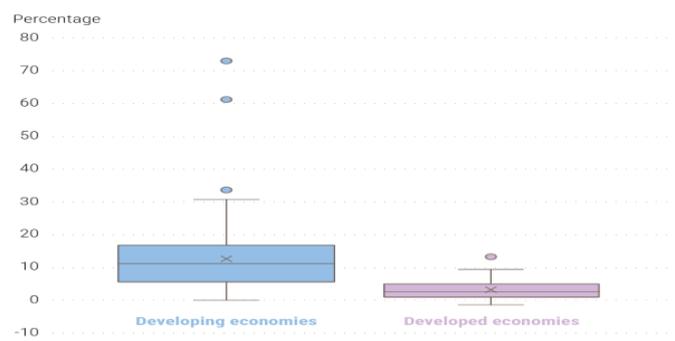

Looking ahead to 2025, the outlook for international finance will largely depend on the current monetary easing cycles by major developed country central banks which affect financing costs and broader economic conditions in many economies. However, uncertainties remain, such as investor concerns over the unwinding of the yen carry trade—a major source of market volatility in 2024—elevated long-term government bond yields, and the strength of the US dollar. These factors could further worsen the external financing constraints faced by many developing countries.

Global economic outlook: six themes for 2025

The global economic environment is poised for significant shifts in 2025, driven by evolving market dynamics, geopolitical realignments and structural transformations across industries. Below, we explore six key macroeconomic themes that will shape the year ahead, with a focus on their implications for major economies around the world.

1. US economic exceptionalism: a global growth leader and disruptor

The US economy will remain the global growth leader in 2025 driven by solid income growth, pro-cyclical productivity growth, accommodating fiscal policy and easing monetary policy. While we anticipate real GDP growth in major economies around the world to realign with trend-growth, the US will be one of the few exceptions where this convergence will be from above-potential GDP growth toward 2.2%. The implications are two-fold: the US economy will remain the main driver of global economic resilience, but mildly softer momentum will limit the global pull.

Conversely, tax cuts and stronger private sector confidence on the prospects of pro-business policies and deregulation could support stronger spending and investment in the near-term, even if policy uncertainty should not be underestimated as a headwind.

Finally, US exceptionalism will also bring challenges to global markets, as resulting US dollar strength could exacerbate inflationary pressures worldwide and disrupt capital and investment flows to emerging markets.

2. Trade and geopolitics: derisking in a fragmented universe

Governments will continue to blend national security priorities with strategic competitiveness goals using industrial policy and trade protectionism to support their objectives. The fragmentation of global trade, exacerbated by tensions between the US and mainland China, and the rise of geoeconomic blocs will continue to redefine supply chain dynamics.

In this environment, the role of “connector economies” – emerging markets that have advantageous locations and preferential trade agreements across major blocs – will grow. India, Saudi Arabia, Mexico, Brazil, the United Arab Emirates and Southeast Asian economies will benefit from maintaining or developing strong trade and investment relations across geopolitical blocs. India will continue to foster trade and investment ties across geopolitical divides while being a critical driver of South-South trade. Southeast Asia is likely to remain the top destination for foreign investment among emerging markets.

In the US, protectionist measures will be used in a transactional manner to extract trade, immigration, drug traffic control, defense spending and other political concessions from trading partners. We anticipate targeted tariffs on trading partners. However, we note that a scenario factoring 60% tariffs on Chinese imports and a 10% universal tariff on all imports from other US trading partners (assuming proportional retaliation against US exports) would reduce global GDP by 1.4% after two years, with GDP in the US, mainland China, Mexico and Canada reduced by 2.0% to 3.0%.

3. Price volatility: easing inflation pressures but supply fragilities

Inflation will only gradually converge toward central bank targets across regions, with upside risks stemming from structural supply fragilities, geopolitical tensions and volatile commodity prices.

In advanced economies, where inflation surged to multidecade highs following the pandemic, price pressures are expected to moderate but remain uneven. Wage cost pressures, potential tariffs and limited innovation undermining global competitiveness in some sectors are likely to persist across European economies and the UK. In the US, we expect the moderating trend in inflation will remain in place through early 2025, though it could then change as deregulation, potential immigration restrictions and tariffs lead to a renewed inflation impulse. In contrast to President-elect Trump’s first term, these inflationary pressures would come in a new paradigm defined by fragile supply conditions, elevated geopolitical tensions and structural upside risks to inflation. Geopolitical tensions such as the wars in Ukraine and the Middle East could further exacerbate inflation volatility, particularly in energy and agricultural commodities.

Mainland China will face a different macroeconomic challenge: the risk of deflation due to subdued consumer spending trends, cautious business investment and ongoing deleveraging in the property sector. This has prompted authorities to announce stimulus measures to prevent exacerbating deflationary pressures. Indeed, deflation could slow the economic recovery by delaying consumer purchases, eroding corporate revenues and worsening real debt burdens, particularly if property sector weakness and slowing exports continue to weigh on private sector confidence.

Emerging markets will grapple with the challenge of curbing inflation while contending with fragile supply chains, volatile commodity prices and foreign exchange fluctuations. Several Asian emerging economies, including India and Indonesia, are better positioned to maintain price stability due to proactive fiscal measures and monetary prudence. The combination of a diversified supply base that mitigates reliance on external inputs and importing deflation from China should further support disinflation.

The five D’s of structurally higher inflation – demographics, debt, de-risking, decarbonization and digitalization – will remain in place. Aging populations requiring more private and public spending; elevated levels of public expenditure on domestic and industrial policy; a growing focus on de-risking and building resilience in a geopolitically fragmented world; the greening of the global economy via greater outlays to reduce carbon emissions; and capital investment to develop generative artificial intelligence (GenAI) will likely mean that central banks’ inflation targets represent a floor rather than a ceiling in most economies over the medium term.

Still, inflation risks are not entirely tilted to the upside as an end to conflicts around the world, restrained protectionism, stronger productivity growth or subdued demand growth would translate into a lower inflation environment.

4. Monetary policy: reasons to recalibrate but recalibrate with caution

Generally easing inflation should continue to favor monetary policy recalibration in the near term. But while central banks will find plenty of reasons to pursue their policy easing cycle, they will almost certainly recalibrate with caution given the risks from inflation volatility tied to trade, wages, energy and food cost pressures. As a result, global monetary policy will be desynchronized as central bankers respond to divergent domestic and international conditions and may even be forced to tighten policy amid resurgent inflationary and exchange rate pressures.

The Federal Reserve is likely to proceed carefully in easing policy after having reduced the federal funds rate by 100 basis points (bps) in 2024. Unsure about what the neutral fed funds rate is, data-dependent policymakers will likely favor easing at every other Federal Open Market Committee (FOMC) meeting through Q3 2025 given upside risks to inflation stemming from deregulation, tax cuts, tariffs and immigration restrictions. A prolonged pause in the easing cycle should not be discounted, and a 2025 Fed rate hike is more than just a tail risk.

Central banks in the rest of the world face equally complex recalibration challenges, reflecting diverse economic conditions. The ECB is expected to ease policy more rapidly than the Bank of England (BoE) considering weaker growth prospects and mildly lower inflation projections in the eurozone due to more constrained wage growth.

Central banks in Canada, Sweden, Switzerland and New Zealand will continue to lead global policy recalibration given lower inflation prospects and softer labor market conditions. With some delay relative to its peers, the Reserve Bank of Australia is likely to commence its easing cycle in early 2025 given soft growth dynamics and easing inflation. The Bank of Japan will be the exception among developed markets' central banks with gradual tightening and normalization of policy in the face of moderate consumer and wage price inflation after two decades of deflation.

Central banks in emerging markets will carefully navigate the complex interplay of global and domestic pressures, with a keen eye on the Federal Reserve's monetary policy stance to mitigate foreign exchange volatility and capital flow reversals. In Asia, monetary easing is expected to gain traction as inflation moderates and economic conditions stabilize. India is likely to proceed cautiously, with the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) adopting a measured approach to rate reductions. With headline inflation above the 4% target, robust economic growth and geopolitical uncertainties will temper the pace of easing. Across Latin America, monetary policy will broadly shift toward accommodation as inflationary pressures subside, although Brazil may remain an outlier with rate hikes to counter persistently high inflation.

Meanwhile, the People's Bank of China (PBoC) will face deflationary risks rather than inflation in the coming months. The PBoC is expected to implement policy interest rate and reserve requirement ratio (RRR) cuts and complement these accommodative policies with bond purchases in 2025.

This global divergence in monetary policy trajectories underscores the fragmented nature of the global recovery and the difficulty of achieving synchronized growth. For many central banks, recalibrating with caution will mean balancing inflation control with the imperative to sustain growth and ensure financial stability in an increasingly volatile environment.

5. Labor in flux: talent scarcity, productivity and AI

The future of global labor markets will be shaped by the intricate interplay of economic pressures, demographic shifts and rapid technological advancements. Advanced economies, grappling with cyclical headwinds and slower employment growth have so far benefited from labor supply rebounds fueled by immigration. However, mounting populist opposition to immigration threatens to exacerbate talent shortages in aging societies, further straining already fragile labor markets. In addition, some economies, like Europe, face the dual challenge of subdued productivity growth and declining competitiveness, compounded by rigid labor markets and slower adoption of innovative technologies.

Policymakers and business leaders will need to counter these challenges by fostering stronger workforce participation and accelerating investments in automation and AI to offset demographic pressures. Business leaders, facing rising costs of talent post-pandemic, are likely to focus on preserving their talent but drive productivity enhancements and constrain wage growth to contain labor costs.

We have been firm believers in what has now become the consensus view that the US productivity surge was sustainable. Longer-tenured and better trained employees, strong business formation, efforts to offset high wage bills with efficiency gains and judicious business investment in a high-interest rate environment form the bedrock of this acceleration in productivity. If firms across other advanced economies can generate strong productivity momentum, they will be able to control costs and protect margins without sacrificing talent in an environment of still-elevated wages and fading pricing power.

Emerging markets should be better positioned to leverage demographic dividends and reform momentum. Economies like India, ASEAN nations and Brazil are intensifying efforts to improve labor market efficiency and foster innovation. Policies promoting higher workforce participation, particularly among women, are becoming central to sustaining growth in regions experiencing rapid social and economic change. Meanwhile, digital transformation is driving competitiveness in regions such as mainland China and Sub-Saharan Africa. In the coming years, successfully aligning workforce potential with technological capabilities will be critical for emerging markets to solidify their position as engines of global economic expansion.

At the forefront of these shifts, GenAI is poised to redefine productivity and reshape the global economy. We estimate the GenAI revolution could contribute $1.7 trillion to $3.4 trillion to global GDP by 2035, equivalent to adding an economy the size of India. For the US, this transformation could translate into the equivalent of two to four extra years of economic growth within a decade. To fully capitalize on this potential, business leaders and policymakers must prioritize the integration of advanced technologies, commit to reskilling and workforce adaptability, and implement structural reforms that foster inclusive and sustainable economic growth.

6. Fiscal policy: a delicate balancing act

Fiscal policy in 2025 is set against a backdrop of high public debt, elevated interest rates and competing political and economic priorities. Global public debt is forecast to remain at 91% of GDP, creating an environment where governments face rising borrowing costs and reduced fiscal flexibility. The high-interest rate environment compounds the challenge, as debt servicing increasingly absorbs resources that could otherwise support growth-oriented investments. Rising populist pressures for social spending, tax cuts and subsidies further complicate fiscal management, particularly in politically unstable regions where short-term appeasement often takes precedence over structural reforms.

Advanced economies must grapple with balancing fiscal consolidation against populist pressures for greater spending and tax cuts as well as rising spending needs related to energy transition, defense and aging demographics. In the US, potential extensions of tax relief measures, such as the 2017 Tax Cuts and Jobs Act, could widen the deficit, while rising interest expenses, entitlement costs and defense spending further constrain fiscal options. Similarly, Japan’s fiscal outlook is overshadowed by an aging population that continues to drive up health care and pension costs, demanding ever-higher expenditures even as economic growth remains subdued.

In Europe, fiscal policy will be tightened mildly, though fiscal positions will diverge across countries. France will display the highest deficit within the euro area, with no significant tightening expected amid political gridlock, making the country highly vulnerable to disruptions in sovereign bond markets. In Germany, the deficit will be much lower, as the recent government collapse prevents any increase in government expenditures in the short term, even though looser fiscal policy and public investment in infrastructure and the energy transition are badly needed to lift the economy out of stagnation. Fiscal policy will also remain expansionary in Central and Eastern Europe, particularly Romania and Poland, due to rising military spending and populist pressures.

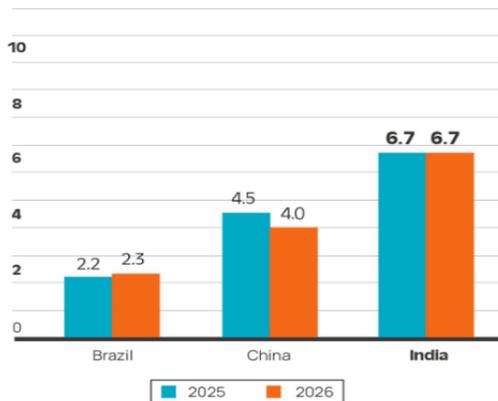

Emerging markets will face intensified fiscal pressures in 2025 as high global interest rates and a strong US dollar amplify the cost of dollar-denominated debt, limiting their capacity for fiscal expansion. Brazil exemplifies these challenges with a populist agenda promoting much looser government spending and a likely 15 percentage points (ppt) rise in the debt-to-GDP ratio by 2030. Currency depreciation amid fiscal sustainability concerns along with high inflation have, in turn, prompted a significant tightening of monetary policy. In Asia, India is expected to sustain growth through moderate public investment, while mainland China relies on targeted fiscal measures to counter its structural slowdown. In Gulf Cooperation Council (GCC) states, governments are diversifying fiscal revenues away from oil and stimulating non-oil sector activity with public investment. Sub-Saharan Africa must navigate fiscal consolidation alongside political instability and growing demands for infrastructure, energy and climate resilience investments.

In 2025, sustainable pro-growth fiscal policy should focus on unlocking long-term productivity gains while addressing the constraints of elevated debt levels and high interest rates. Strategic investments in digitalization, education, infrastructure and green energy will be essential for driving economic transformation and resilience. However, the risk of these growth-enabling expenditures being overshadowed by rising debt servicing costs is significant, especially for emerging markets with constrained fiscal space.

INDIAN ECONOMY

Top EMDEs Projected GDP Growth Rates

EMDE - Emerging Market and Developing Economies

*GDP growth rates for India are on a fiscal year (FY) basis, 2025 refers to 2025/26

Source: World Bank

India is projected to remain the fastest-growing large economy for FY26 and FY27, reaffirming its dominance in the global economic landscape. India’s economy is expected to grow at a stable rate of 6.7 per cent annually during FY26 and FY27.

Growth in India’s services sector is expected to remain robust, while manufacturing activity will strengthen, supported by government efforts to improve logistics infrastructure and streamline tax systems. Private consumption in India is likely to gain momentum, driven by a stronger labour market, increased access to credit, and lower inflation.

India’s Investment growth is expected to remain steady, supported by rising private investments, improved corporate balance sheets, and favourable financing conditions. Global economic growth is projected to hold steady at 2.7 per cent in 2025-26, highlighting India's outperformance.

Emerging Market and Developing Economies (EMDEs) have undergone significant transformation since 2000, now contributing about 45 per cent of global GDP, compared to 25 per cent at the start of the century. India, China, and Brazil, the three largest EMDEs, have collectively driven approximately 60 per cent of annual global growth since the start of the century.

Amid this growth slowdown, there were a few emerging trends that pointed to inert resilience.

- Robust rural consumption: Agricultural growth hit a five-quarter high of 3.5%, aided by a strong monsoon season. Indicators like rising sales of fast-moving consumer goods and declining numbers of jobs demanded through the Mahatma Gandhi National Rural Employment Guarantee Act (more commonly, MGNREGA) confirm strength in rural demand. With healthy *khari*⁵ harvests and improved rabi sowing, rural consumption is expected to remain strong, further boosted by festive season spending.⁶
- Strong services sector growth: Services grew by 7.2%, driven by public administration and defense (9.1%) and finance, insurance, and real estate (7.2%). Services exports surged 21.3%. Between April and October 2024, total services exports stood at US$216 billion, compared to US$192 billion in 2023. This growth is crucial given the sector’s significant contribution to India’s GDP and employment, specifically for the urban middle-income population.
- High-value manufacturing exports: Exports of electronics, engineering goods, and chemicals have grown significantly, now comprising 31% of total merchandise exports. Given that micro, small, and medium enterprises are significant contributors to manufacturing supply chains and exports, rising performance of these enterprises’ points to healthy growth in this export segment.

- Controlled fiscal deficit: The fiscal deficit stood at 4.4% of GDP in the second quarter of this fiscal year, accounting for 29.4% of the budget estimate, and standing 10% lower than last year. This gives government some room to ramp up spending to boost demand. With lower capital expenditure in the first half of this fiscal year, the government is poised to ramp up spending in the coming half, supporting demand and crowding in private investments. A significant uptick in government spending is expected in the second half of this fiscal year to meet budgetary targets, which may provide additional support to the economy and boost investment by crowding in private investments.

Potential risks

- Inflation concerns and monetary policy: Inflation has been above India’s central bank’s comfort zone in recent months, prompting the Reserve Bank of India to maintain policy rates for the eleventh consecutive bimonthly review in December, despite modest GDP growth in the first half of this fiscal year. Core inflation—which is below the central bank’s target—has also been inching upward, a trend that could potentially spiral up inflationary expectations and dampen consumer spending.
- Global trade disruptions: Policy changes in industrialized nations could potentially alter supply chains and trade regulations, potentially affecting global trade dynamics and reducing demand for Indian exports.⁷

India’s near-term outlook

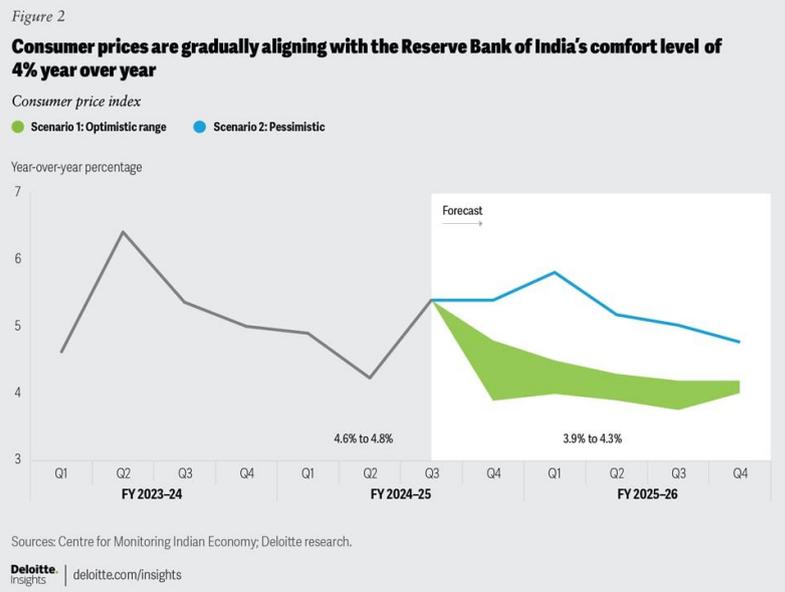

We now expect India to grow between 6.5% and 6.8% in fiscal year 2024 to 2025, in our baseline scenario. Although admittedly lower than previously estimated, because of a slower first half of the year, we expect strong domestic demand in the second half, driven by a significant uptick in government spending).

This will be followed by growth between 6.7% and 7.3% in fiscal year 2025 to 2026, with significant downside risks (hence a wider range; figure 1). India’s growth projections in the subsequent year will likely be tied to broader global trends, including rising geopolitical uncertainties and a delayed synchronous recovery in the West than anticipated. Disruptions to global trade and supply chain due to intensifying geopolitical uncertainties will also affect demand for exports. Despite these challenges, we will continue to see the difference between actual GDP and no-COVID-19 levels progressively narrowing as growth picks up pace (for more on our baseline and pessimistic scenario assumptions.

Inflation concerns are back, but with strong agricultural output and proactive government interventions improving the food supply chain, inflation may remain range-bound, although above the RBI’s comfort level. Inflation may ease early next fiscal year, and we expect inflation to slowly revert to the central bank’s target of 4% from early next year and remain within range over the forecast period deloitte.com

The structural growth outlook for India’s economy remains very much intact, with various signs indicating that the slowdown in 2024 will be transitory. We expect the growth momentum to improve entering 2025, as government spending picks up again and consumer sentiment stays resilient. This should enable better earnings growth, amid an improving economic backdrop that may also find support from favourable monetary and fiscal policies. We believe India will continue to stand out as the fastest-growing major economy globally in the coming years. In this environment, the premiumization of consumption remains a high-conviction theme for Franklin Templeton Emerging Markets Equity (FTEME). We also stay positive on India’s vibrant digital economy and its beneficiaries, as well as the structural growth potential in the health care sector. Temporary slowdown, but recovery in place India’s economic growth slowed in 2024, with gross domestic product (GDP) year-on-year growth of just 5.4% in the fiscal second quarter (July-September), the lowest in seven quarters. As a result, growth for the full fiscal year ending March 2025 will likely be 6.6%,¹ moderating from 8.2% from a year earlier, based on Reserve Bank of India (RBI) forecasts. We believe this slowdown is temporary, with deferred government spending in a general election year the primary cause. Heavy monsoon rainfall during the summer also proved disruptive to economic activities. In our view, several high frequency datapoints are showing improving underlying conditions for a recovery in growth:

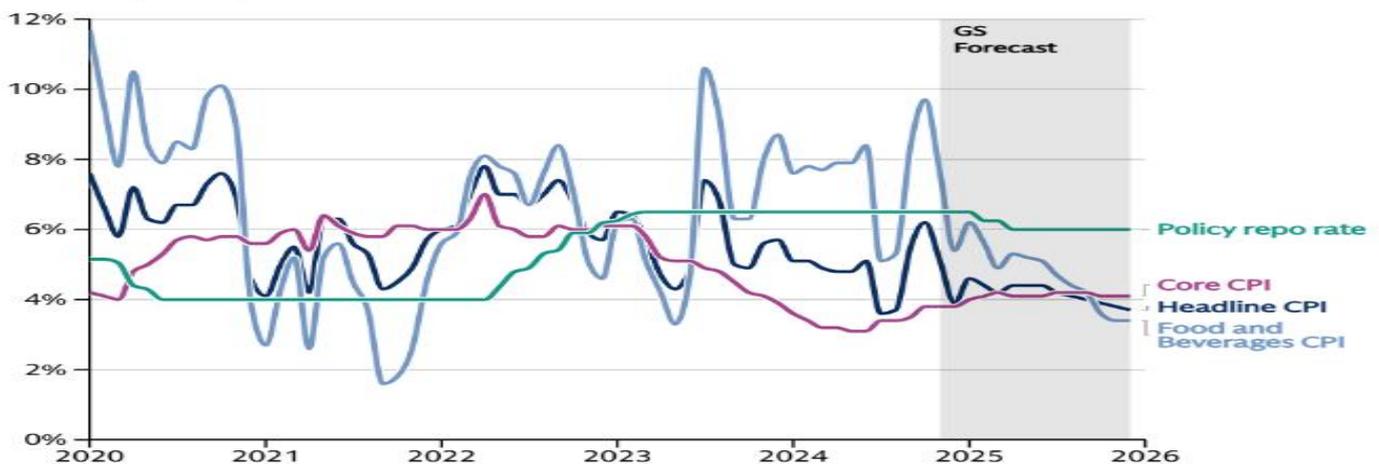

Government spending is picking up: Government cash balance—a major indicator for government spending—dropped to a deficit of INR458 billion (US$5.4 billion) in the first week of December.

2 This figure has been on a downtrend since September, suggesting that the government is gradually ramping up its spending on priority initiatives, particularly infrastructure and rural development. Importantly, a pickup in government spending and activities should synergize capital expenditure (capex) growth in the private sector. For instance, we may see faster approvals for construction and engineering projects, bolstering company confidence to invest and hire more actively.

Indian inflation is on track to align with its target in 2025

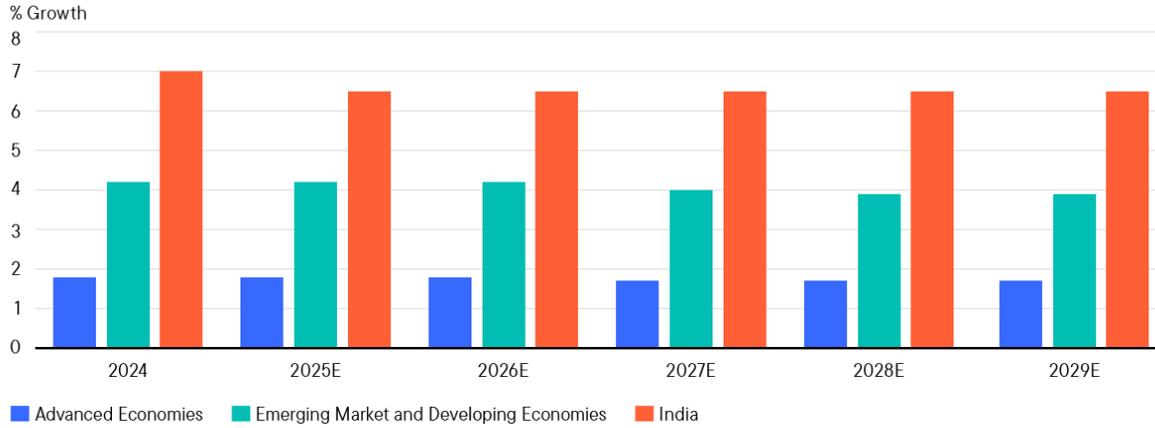

Percentage change year-on-year

Source: CEIC, Goldman Sachs Research • Core inflation is headline inflation excluding food, fuel, and light inflation. India’s official inflation target is 4% +/- 2%.

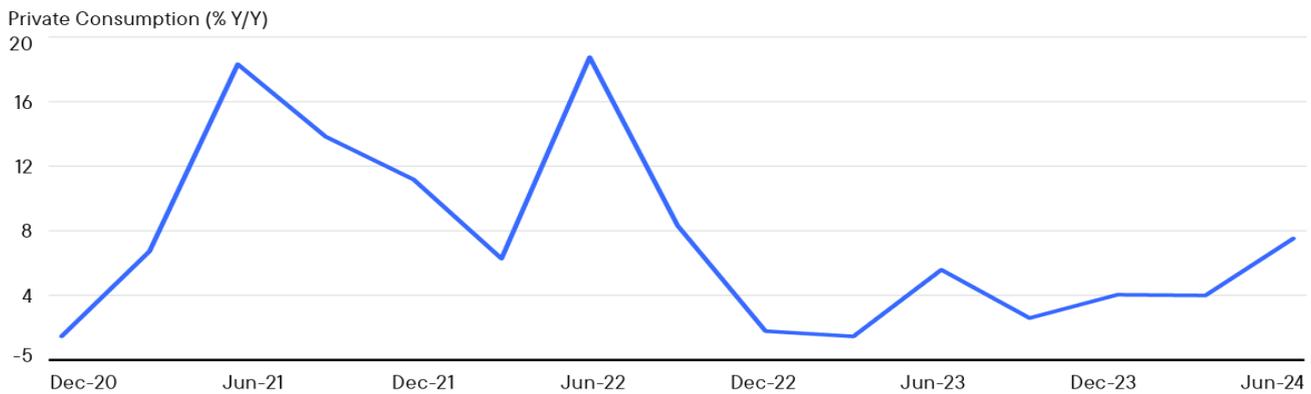

Domestic demand remains healthy: Private consumption is a major driver for India’s economy, and it is showing stronger growth momentum in the second half of this year. Consumer sentiment also remains resilient and year-ahead optimism has held firm, indicating a post-election recovery. Consumption growth should find further support if inflation cools in 2025. The Consumer Price Index (CPI) inflation rate will moderate from 5.7% in the October-December quarter of 2024 to 4% in the July-September quarter of 2025, based on RBI forecasts.

3. The resumption of government spending, private sector capex growth and the resilience of domestic consumption, among other factors, may help India’s economy return to normalcy in 2025. As growth accelerates again, the stage is set for earnings recovery.

Road Ahead

India’s economy grew by 6.2% in Q3 FY25. Signs of recovery are now visible, with growth expected to rise to 7.6% in Q4 FY25—indicating a possible turnaround in the coming months. India's comparatively strong position in the external sector reflects the country's positive outlook for economic growth and rising employment rates. India ranked 5th in foreign direct investment inflows among the developed and developing nations listed for the first quarter of 2022.

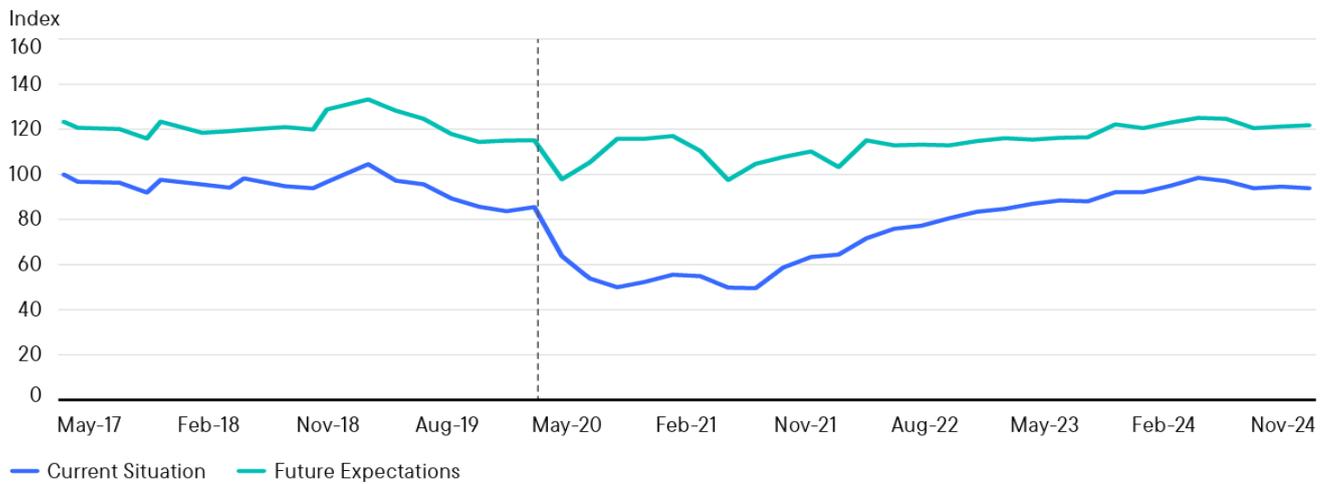

India's economic story during the first half of FY24 highlighted the unwavering support the government gave to its capital expenditure, which, in FY24, stood 37.4% higher than the same period last year. In the Union Budget of FY26, capital expenditure took lead by steeply increasing the capital expenditure outlay by 10.0 % to Rs. 11.21 lakh crore (US$ 131.42 billion) over Rs. 10.18 lakh crore (US$ 119.34 billion) in FY25. Stronger revenue generation because of improved tax compliance, increased profitability of the company, and increasing economic activity also contributed to rising capital spending levels.

India’s total exports of goods and services rose by 5.5% to a record Rs. 69.8 lakh crore (US$ 820.9 billion) in FY25, compared to Rs. 65.8 lakh crore (US$ 773.0 billion) in FY24.

With a reduction in port congestion, supply networks are being restored. With a proactive set of administrative actions by the government, flexible monetary policy, and a softening of global commodity prices and supply-chain bottlenecks, inflationary pressures in India look to be on the decline overall.

SWOT ANALYSIS OF OUR COMPANY

STRENGTHS:

1. Comprehensive Service Offerings: A wide range of services tailored for different market segments (institutions, proprietary desks, brokers) creates a one-stop solution for clients, reducing their need to use multiple platforms.
2. Client-Centric Approach: Personalized services and customer support enhance client satisfaction and loyalty, helping to build long-term relationships.

WEAKNESSES:

1. High Development Costs: Significant investments in technology infrastructure and continuous system improvements can be resource-intensive, impacting profitability.
2. Complex Sales Process: Direct sales to institutions and proprietary desks require highly skilled professionals and longer sales cycles, which could slow down market penetration.
3. Scalability: The company in order to grow further from current levels would need to invest in human resource, technology and hardware which could impact its profitability.

OPPORTUNITIES:

1. Global Expansion: Entering new international markets could significantly increase the client base and revenue streams, especially in emerging markets with growing financial sectors.
2. Product Diversification: Expanding and enhancing the service portfolio, such as introducing new tools or features, could address evolving market demands and attract new clients.
3. Education and Training: Offering educational resources and training programs could empower clients, enhance system utilization, and differentiate our company from competitors.

THREATS:

1. Intense Competition: The financial technology sector is highly competitive, with numerous established players and startups offering similar services, which could lead to pricing pressures and reduced margins. The company is currently catering to limited set off customers which require customization – however if the company has to grow further it would need to standardize its product portfolio which could impact its margin.
2. Regulatory Risks: Changes in financial regulations across different regions could impact our operations and necessitate costly adjustments to the platform.
3. Technological Disruptions: Rapid advancements in technology could require constant innovation and adaptation, posing a challenge to stay ahead of competitors.
4. Economic Downturns: Economic instability or market downturns could reduce trading activities and client investments, negatively affecting our revenue.

U/s 139(1) every Company is required to file its Income tax return for every Previous Year by 31st October of the Assessment Year. Goods and Service Tax Act, 2017

The Central Goods and Services Tax Act, 2017 is an Act to make a provision for levy and collection of tax on intra-State supply of goods or services or both by the Central Government and for matters connected therewith or incidental thereto. In line with CGST Act, each state Government has enacted State Goods and Service Tax Act for respective states. Goods and Services Tax (GST) is a comprehensive indirect tax on manufacture, sale and consumption of goods and services throughout India to replace taxes levied by the central and state governments on goods and services. This method allows GST-registered businesses to claim tax credit to the value of GST they paid on purchase of goods or services or both as part of their normal commercial activity. The mechanism provides for two level taxation of interstate and intra state transactions. When the supply of goods or services happens within a state called as intra-state transactions, then both the CGST and SGST will be collected. Whereas if the supply of goods or services happens between the states called as inter-state transactions and IGST will be collected. Exports are considered as zero-rated supply and imports are levied the same taxes as domestic goods and services adhering to the destination-based taxation principle in addition to the Customs Duty which has not been subsumed in the GST.

BUSINESS/TRADE RELATED LAWS/REGULATIONS

Information Technology Act, 2000 and Rules made there under including any amendments thereto.

Since our Company is involved in the business of web hosting, software development, providing real time solutions at the place of the Clients and development of tailor-made systems at the clients' place at their specifications using computer or computerized system. During the course of development of such products, we interchange sensitive information, data, records, functions, security procedures and like and hence our working is governed by Information Technology Act, 2000 amended from time to time. This act governs and provides legal recognition for transactions carried out by means of electronic data interchange and other means of electronic communication, commonly referred to as —electronic commerce. It also gives legal recognition to Digital Signatures and facilitates storage of data. The Act is applicable to any offence or contravention committed outside India as well. If the conduct of person constituting the offence involves a computer or a computerized system or network located in India, then irrespective of his/her nationality, the person is punishable under the Act.

The IT Rules focus on and regulate specific areas of the collection, transfer and processing of data, and include the following:

- The Information Technology (Reasonable Security Practices and Procedures and Sensitive Personal Data or Information) Rules, which require entities holding users' sensitive personal information to maintain certain specified security standards;
- The Information Technology (Guidelines for Intermediaries and Digital Media Ethics Code) Rules, 2021, which prohibit content of a specific nature on the internet, and govern the role of intermediaries, including social media intermediaries, in keeping personal data of their users safe online;
- The Information Technology (Guidelines for Cyber Cafe) Rules, which require cybercafés to register with a registration agency and maintain a log of users' identities and their internet usage; and
- The Information Technology (Electronic Service Delivery) Rules, which allow the Government to specify that certain services, such as applications, certificates and licenses, be delivered electronically.

Information Technology (Amendment) Act 2008

The Information Technology Amendment Act 2008 (IT Act 2008) was passed in October 2008 and came into effect the following year as a substantial addition to the IT Act of 2000. These amendments helped improve the original bill, which originally failed to pave the way for further IT-related development. It was hailed as an innovative and long-awaited step towards an improved cybersecurity framework in India.

IT Act 2008 added updated and redefined terms for current use, expanding the definition of cybercrime and the validation of electronic signatures. It also strongly encourages companies to implement better data security practices and makes them liable for data breaches.

The IT Act of 2008 applies to any individual, company, or organization (intermediaries) that uses computer resources, computer networks, or other information technology in India. It also includes service providers of web hosting, internet, network, and telecom. It also includes foreign organizations that have a presence in India and businesses outside of the country that has operations in India.

Covering important information security practices for cybercrime and data protection with over nine chapters and 117 sections, the new Information Technology Amendment Act of 2008 includes the following responsibilities:

- Improving cybersecurity measures and forensics
- Requiring intermediaries and body corporates to report cybersecurity incidents to CERT-In
- Preventing unauthorized/unlawful use of a computer system
- Protecting private data and information from cyber terrorism, DDoS attacks, phishing, malware, and identity theft
- Legal recognition for cybersecurity of organizations
- Safeguarding e-payments and electronic transactions and monitoring and decryption of electronic records
- Establishing a legal framework for digital signatures
- Recognizing and regulating intermediaries

It's important to note that the biggest problem with the IT Act 2008 is in Subsection 69, which authorizes the Indian government to expeditiously intercept, monitor, decrypt, block, and remove data and content at its discretion, which can pose serious privacy concerns.

Violation of the IT Act may incur penalties ranging from $1,250 to 3-year imprisonment, while penalties for more serious offenses and cybercrimes may reach imprisonment of up to 10 years.

Information Technology Rules, 2011

Under the IT Act, another important segment of the cybersecurity legislation is the Information Technology (Reasonable Security Practices and Procedures and Sensitive Personal Data or Information) Rules 2011 (Privacy Rules).

The most significant amendments include provisions for the regulation of intermediaries, updated penalties and violation fees for cybercrime, cheating, slander, and non-consensual publishing of private images, as well as censoring/restriction of certain speech.

Both the Information Technology Act (ITA) and the IT Rules are important for governing how Indian entities and organizations process sensitive info, data protection, data retention, and collection of personal data and other sensitive information.

Other Indian sectors, like banking, insurance, telecom, and healthcare, also include data privacy provisions as part of their separate statutes.

National Cyber Security Policy -2013

National Cyber Security Protection Act was passed in 2014. It is a cybersecurity law establishing national cybersecurity centres and methods to protect the critical infrastructure and cybersecurity protection for use in the Department of Homeland Security.

The term cyber security refers to techniques and practices designed to protect digital data.

The data that is stored, transmitted or used on an information system. OR. Cyber security is the protection of Internet-connected systems, including hardware, software, and data from cyber-attacks.

National Cyber Security Policy, 2013

In 2013, the Department of Electronics and Information Technology (Deity) released the National Cyber Security Policy 2013 as a security framework for public and private organizations to better protect themselves from cyber-attacks.

The goal behind the National Cyber Security Policy is to create and develop more dynamic policies to improve the protection of India's cyber ecosystem. The policy aims to create a workforce of over 500,000 expert IT professionals over the following five years through skill development and training.

The NSCP's other goals include:

- Creating a resilient and safe cyberspace for individuals, organizations, and the government
- Monitoring, safeguarding cyber infrastructure and information, reducing vulnerabilities, and strengthening defences against cyber attacks
- Creating frameworks, capabilities, and vulnerability management strategies for minimizing, faster prevention, or responding to cyber incidents and cyber threats
- Encourages organizations to develop cybersecurity policies that align with strategic goals, business workflows, and general best practices
- Simultaneously create institutional structures, people, processes, technology, and cooperation to minimize the damage caused by cybercrime

IT Rules, 2021

On February 25, 2021, the Ministry of Electronics and Information Technology introduced the Information Technology (Guidelines for Intermediaries and Digital Media Ethics Code) Rules, 2021 as a replacement for IT Rules, 2011. A little over a year later, on June 6, 2022, the newly updated draft amendments were published by the Indian MeitY (Ministry of Electronics and IT) to improve the IT Act to keep up with the challenges of the ever-changing digital landscape.

The new amendments aim to allow ordinary users of digital platforms to seek compensation for their grievances and demand accountability when their rights are infringed upon, as well as institute additional due diligence on organizations.

IT Rules, 2021 also distinguishes between smaller and more significant social media intermediaries based on user numbers and places a much heavier burden on larger social media intermediaries concerning personal data protection.

Additionally, there are changes to the privacy and transparency requirements of intermediaries, such as:

- Requiring intermediaries to inform users about rules and regulations, privacy policy, and terms and conditions for usage of its services

- Requiring intermediaries to designate a grievance officer that can address and resolve user complaints about violations of IT Rules, 2021 National Cyber Security Strategy 2020
- The National Cyber Security Strategy of 2020 was the long-awaited follow-up plan by the Indian government to further improve cybersecurity efforts. While the plan is still under development and pending review by the National Security Council Secretariat, the plan's main goal is to serve as the official guidance for stakeholders, policymakers, and corporate leaders to prevent cyber incidents, cyber terrorism, and espionage in cyberspace.
- The strategy aims to improve cybersecurity audit quality so organizations can conduct better reviews of their cybersecurity architecture and knowledge. The hope is that, once the policy is implemented, cyber auditors will improve their security standards, ultimately encouraging organizations to step up their security programs.

KYC (Know Your Customer)

KYC (Know Your Customer) processes are standards and practices used worldwide and mandated by the RBI (Reserve Bank of India). KYC is the tracking and monitoring of customer data security for improved safeguarding against fraud and payment credential theft. It requires banks, insurance companies, and any other digital payment companies that carry out financial transactions to verify and identify all of their customers.

For proper KYC compliance and to meet financial regulatory requirements, businesses need to include the following cybersecurity steps:

- Having a knowledge-based questionnaire test for verifying customer identities
- Implementing pre-screening KYC verification methods like email verification, phone verification, Device ID intelligence, and reputational data, among others
- Using AI-based technology and machine learning for verifying documents and government-issued IDs
- Using biometrics like fingerprinting and facial recognition to verify a user's identity
- Maintaining a database of customers for verification purposes

Businesses with KYC policies assure customers they have the relevant compliance management and anti-fraud solutions to protect their digital identities and payment transaction data. With KYC Compliance, Indian merchants can have peace of mind with safe and secure payment processing, complying with regulations from SEBI, as well as establishing trust with customers.

Failing to adhere to the KYC directions, banks, businesses, and corporations may face a monetary penalty of ₹2 lakh (₹200,000).

Indian SPDI Rules, 2011 for Reasonable Security Practices

The IS/ISO/IEC 27001 regulations are identified by the Indian SPDI Rules, 2011, as international standards. As such, Indian companies aren't obligated — but are highly advised — to implement these standards, which can help meet the "reasonable security practices" under Indian jurisdiction.

The rules can also give individuals the right to correct their information and impose restrictions on disclosure, data transfer, and security measures. They only apply to corporate entities, but they aren't responsible for the authenticity of sensitive personal data (SPD) like sexual orientation, medical records and history, biometric information, and passwords.

The Digital Personal Data Protection Bill, 2022 ("DPDP Bill")

The DPDP Bill, 2022 is intended to outline the rights and obligations of 'digital nagriks' or citizens, as well as to lay out the methods and standard for data collecting when it comes to entities. The proposed DPDP Bill, 2022 establishes severe penalties for violations of any of the legislation's provisions, which will be determined by the Data Protection Board of India. It provides financial penalties with a cap of ₹500 crores, which proves to be of much higher quantity as compared to the PDP Bill, 2019. The bill does not allow data principals to seek compensation from data fiduciaries for damages incurred because of unlawful processing. In addition, the legislation imposes obligations on data principals, and if they fail to comply with the regulations, fines of up to ₹10,000 can be levied. Some of these obligations include exercising rights in accordance with "the provisions of all applicable laws" and not filing "false or frivolous" complaints with the data fiduciary or the DPB.

The provisions of this Act upon notification, shall apply to the processing of digital personal data within the territory of India where: (a) such personal data is collected from Data Principals online; and (b) such personal data collected offline, is digitized. (2) The provisions of this Act shall also apply to processing of digital personal data outside the territory of India, if such processing is in connection with any profiling of, or activity of offering goods or services to Data Principals within the territory of India.

National Digital Communications Policy 2018

With significant capabilities in both telecommunications and software, India, more than most countries, stands poised to benefit from harnessing new digital technologies and platforms to unlock productivity, as well as to reach unserved and underserved markets; thus catalyzing economic growth and development, generating new-age jobs and livelihoods, and ensuring access to next generation services for its citizens. This policy aims for Universal Coverage rather than revenue maximization. This policy and principles framework will enable creation of a vibrant competitive telecom market to strengthen India's long term competitiveness and serve the needs of our aspiring nation. The Policy aims to remove regulatory barriers and reduce the regulatory burden that hampers investments, innovation and consumer interest and identifies steps to strengthen the sector's institutional mechanism and legislative framework, to ensure that India's economy and citizens can derive the full potential of its digital communications sector.

Data Center Policy, 2020

Indian Data Centre market has seen tremendous growth in the past decade, riding on the explosion of data through smartphones, social networking sites, ecommerce, digital entertainment, digital education, digital payments and many other digital businesses / services. This growth in data is further stimulated by adoption of emerging technologies such as quantum computing, artificial intelligence, internet of things etc. While the Data Centre sector is witnessing growth in the country, there are known impediments to its growth such as lack of infrastructure or Industry status of the Data Centres, complex clearance processes, time consuming approvals, high cost of power, lack of published standards, absence of specialised building norms for building the Data Centres, submarine cable network connectivity limited to few states and high cost of capital and operational expenditure etc. This policy aims to offset these challenges in order to accelerate the current pace of growth and propel India in becoming a global Data Centre hub.

REGULATIONS RELATED TO FOREIGN TRADE AND INVESTMENT

The Foreign Direct Investment

The Government of India, from time to time, has made policy pronouncements on Foreign Direct Investment ("FDI") through press notes and press releases. Phase I: This phase has become applicable from January 1, 2019 until March 31, 2019 or floating of five main board public issues, whichever is later. Further, as per SEBI circular SEBI/HO/CFD/DIL2/CIR/P/2020/50 dated March 30, 2020, the current Phase II of Unified Payments Interface with Application Supported by Blocked Amount is continued till further notice. Under this phase, submission of the ASBA Form by RIIs through Designated Intermediaries (other than SCSBs) to SCSBs for blocking of funds will be discontinued and will be replaced by the UPI payment mechanism. However, the time duration from public issue closure to listing was six Working Days during this phase.

Phase III: The commencement period of Phase III is notified. In this phase, the time duration from public issue closure to listing is proposed to be reduced to three Working Days.

All SCSBs offering facility of making application in public issues shall also provide facility to make application using the UPI Mechanism. The illustrative book given below shows the demand for the Equity Shares of the Issuer at various prices and is collated from Bids received from various investors.

Id Quantity	Bid Amount(₹)	Cumulative Quantity	Subscription
500	24	500	16.67%
1,000	23	1,500	50.00%
1,500	22	3,000	100.00%
2,000	21	5,000	166.67%
2,500	20	7,500	250.00%

RESTRICTIONS ON FOREIGN OWNERSHIP OF INDIAN SECURITIES

Foreign investment in Indian securities is regulated through the Industrial Policy, 1991 of the Government of India and Foreign Exchange Management Act, 1999 (“FEMA”). While the Industrial Policy, 1991 prescribes the limits and the conditions subject to which foreign investment can be made in different sectors of the Indian economy, FEMA regulates the precise manner in which such investment may be made. Under the Industrial Policy, unless specifically restricted, foreign investment is freely permitted in all sectors of Indian economy up to any extent and without any prior approvals, but the foreign investor is required to follow certain prescribed procedures for making such investment. The government bodies responsible for granting foreign investment approvals are the Reserve Bank of India (“RBI”) and Department of Industrial Policy and Promotion, Ministry of Commerce and Industry, Government of India (“DIPP”).

The Government of India has from time to time made policy pronouncements on FDI through press notes and press releases. The DPIIT issued the Consolidated Foreign Direct Investment Policy notified by the DPIIT File No. 5(2)/2020-FDI Policy dated October 15, 2020, with effect from October 15, 2020 (the “FDI Policy”), which consolidates and supersedes all previous press notes, press releases and clarifications on FDI issued by the DPIIT or the DPIIT that were in force and effect prior to October 15, 2020. The Government of India proposes to update the consolidated circular on FDI Policy once every year and therefore, the FDI Policy will be valid until the DPIIT issues an updated circular.

In terms of the FEMA NDI Rules, a person resident outside India may make investments into India, subject to certain terms and conditions, and provided that an entity of a country, which shares land border with India or the beneficial owner of an investment into India who is situated in or is a citizen of any such country, shall invest only with government approval.

The transfer of shares between an Indian resident and a non-resident does not require the prior approval of the RBI, provided that (i) the activities of the investee company are under the automatic route under the foreign direct investment policy and transfer does not attract the provisions of the Takeover Regulations; (ii) the non-resident shareholding is within the sectoral limits under the FDI policy; and (iii) the pricing is in accordance with the guidelines prescribed by the SEBI/ RBI.

Further, in accordance with Press Note No. 3 (2020 Series), dated April 17, 2020 issued by the DPIIT and the Foreign Exchange Management (Non-debt Instruments) Amendment Rules, 2020 which came into effect from April 22, 2020, any investment, subscription, purchase or sale of equity instruments by entities of a country which shares land border with India or where the beneficial owner of an investment into India is situated in or is a citizen of any such country (“Restricted Investors”), will require prior approval of the Government, as prescribed in the Consolidated FDI Policy and the FEMA Rules. Further, in the event of transfer of ownership of any existing or future foreign direct investment in an entity in India, directly or indirectly, resulting in the beneficial ownership falling within the aforesaid restriction/ purview, such subsequent change in the beneficial ownership will also require approval of the Government. Furthermore, on April 22, 2020, the Ministry of Finance, Government of India has also made a similar amendment to the FEMA Rules. Pursuant to the Foreign Exchange Management (Non-debt Instruments) (Fourth Amendment) Rules, 2020, a multilateral bank or fund, of which India is a member, shall not be treated as an entity of a particular country nor shall any country be treated as the beneficial owner of the investments of such bank of fund in India. Each Bidder should seek independent legal advice about its ability to participate in the Offer. In the event such prior approval of the Government of India is required, and such approval has been obtained, the Bidder shall intimate our Company and the Registrar to the Offer in writing about such approval along with a copy thereof within the Offer Period.

As per the existing policy of the Government of India, OCBs cannot participate in this Issue and in accordance with the extant FDI guidelines on sectoral caps, pricing guidelines etc. as amended by Reserve bank of India, from time to time. Investors are advised to confirm their eligibility under the relevant laws before investing and / or subsequent purchase or sale transaction in the Equity Shares of our Company. Investors will not offer, sell, pledge or transfer the Equity Shares of our Company to any person who is not eligible under applicable laws, rules, regulations, guidelines. Our Company, the Underwriters and their respective directors, officers, agents, affiliates and representatives, as applicable, accept no responsibility or liability for advising any investor on whether such investor is eligible to acquire Equity Shares of our Company.

Investment conditions/restrictions for overseas entities

Under the current FDI Policy 2020, the maximum amount of Investment (sectoral cap) by foreign investor in an issuing entity is composite unless it is explicitly provided otherwise including all types of foreign investments, direct and indirect, regardless of whether it has been made for FDI, FPI, NRI/OCI, LLPs, FVCI, Investment Vehicles and DRs under Foreign Exchange Management (Non-debt Instruments) Rules, 2019. Any equity holding by a person resident outside India resulting from conversion of any debt instrument under any arrangement shall be reckoned as foreign investment under the composite cap.

Portfolio Investment upto aggregate foreign investment level of 49% or sectoral/statutory cap, whichever is lower, will not be subject to either Government approval or compliance of sectoral conditions, if such investment does not result in transfer of ownership and/or control of Indian entities from resident Indian citizens to non-resident entities. Other foreign investments will be subject to conditions of Government approval and compliance of sectoral conditions as per FDI Policy. The total foreign investment, direct and indirect, in the issuing entity will not exceed the sectoral/statutory cap.
